INTRODUCTION.

OFFICE OF HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY,
135 and 137 Monroe St., Chicago, Jan. 1, 1879.

IN presenting the third volume of HOLLAND'S DIRECTORY, for Galesburg, we have but few words to say, as our previous works have proven to our patrons and the citizens generally, that they are superior to any others heretofore issued. This, however, is launched before the public in the belief that it surpasses any of our former efforts and contains many important and valuable additions. — Having been in the Directory publishing business so many years, we feel satisfied that our works are as accurate as it is possible to make them, while the success we meet with, convinces us that they are highly appreciated as books for daily reference and information. In the present volume we have taken extra pains and spared no expense to make it complete and valuable, having added many improvements, among them a list of city officers from the incorporation of the city in 1857 to the present time, and a neatly executed map of the city. This will be found of great convenience and advantage, not alone to citizens, but to the thousands of strangers who will consult the Directory. During the canvass we again took a correct census by actual count and found a population of 12,004, which is a large gain since the last U. S. enumeration. During our stay in Galesburg, we were treated by her citizens with the utmost courtesy, all necessary information being given and the innumerable questions asked being answered with the most gratifying cheerfulness. For this and the liberal patronage extended, together with the unbounded confidence reposed in us and our enterprise, we return our sincere thanks, and hope the work will prove worthy of us as publishers and satisfactory to all our patrons. In conclusion, we would say, that having become the recognized publishers of the Galesburg Directory, we will issue our fourth edition in three years hence, until which time.

We remain

—Very respectfully yours,

HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH AND REVIEW

OF THE

Schools, Churches, City Officers,

SOCIETIES, ORGANIZATIONS AND NEWSPAPERS

OF THE

CITY OF GALESBURG, ILLINOIS,

SHOWING BRIEFLY THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS ENTERPRISING CITY.

So rapidly have the States and cities of the West grown in population and wealth during the past quarter of a century, that to those persons who have been plodding along quietly in the East, the advancement made seems simply fabulous. Whatever the belief may be, however, facts bear out the above assertion, and to the end, that we may contribute toward convincing those who have means and are seeking profitable locations, we will briefly show the advantages of this locality. To begin, we will state that on the 3rd day of December, 1818, Illinois was admitted into the Union, having at that time a population of but 50,000 inhabitants. This was the eighth State admitted into the Union under the Federal Constitution. So rapidly, however has been the progress made by the State in everything that ministers to man's wants and comforts, that to-day she is universally known and truthfully denominated the Garden State of the Union. In sixty years she has grown from a population of fifty thousand to over three million people, and has become the fourth State in the Union, and the fifth in manufacturing industries. During this time cities have arisen as if by magic, rivaling in beauty, wealth and population, the oldest settled portions of the country, while towns and villages have sprung into existence on every hand; and farms, or chards and vineyards adorn the hills and valleys of our lovely prairies. All over the State are numerous lines of iron highways, over which the products of the unsurpassably fertile soil are conveyed to the seaboard, the lakes and the gulf. It has been indisputably proven that Illinois can produce enough to feed the whole nation, and that no other State has so many and diversified advantages. Extending from the cold lakes of the North to the tobacco and cotton regions of the South, it gives all the varieties of climate and products between New England and Southern Virginia. We have Lake Michigan on the North communicating with an open sea, the Mississippi on the West, the Ohio and Wabash on the East, the Illinois through the center, and the Ohio and Mississippi with open navigation all the year round to the gulf on the South. And nature not content with clearing the ground for the farmer and mellowing, manuring and enriching it with decayed grasses of centuries, has underlaid it with veins of rich coal and building stone. The property of Illinois has a fixed value, unlike the speculative frontier lands, and, if the owner desires, can borrow money on them, because of their present and increasing value. Many years ago, before her railroad system was perfected, it was different, being then as lands further west are to-day—speculative—rising or falling with railroad or other schemes, that too often have no bottom to them, hence, capitalists and buyers are shy of investing in them. After saying this much we would ask our readers what are the objects of life? Evidently one object is to make money, for by it, if rightly used, we secure the comforts of life. But money is not, or should not be the sole object, for education has an important bearing on a person's happiness, and happiness is probably the most desirable object of life. In choosing a home therefore, school advantages should have a weighty influence, for children who are permitted to grow up in comparative ignorance rarely arrive at distinction, and never fail to experience regrets at their own neglect or the mistake of their parents. Religious privileges are a great blessing, without which, to many minds, happiness is impossible, while cultivated society is one of the sweetest charms of life. All the above advantages, and many more which will readily suggest themselves, should be taken into consideration in securing a home. While Illinois offers better facilities for business, in every relation of life than any section of country west, it also offers immigrants all the social, religious and educational advantages to which they may have been accustomed in the East. These consist of free schools, free libraries, free churches, and in these as well as in all other matters pertaining to the welfare of mankind, no other part of the State offers better inducements than

GALESBURG AND KNOX COUNTY.

All will admit that there are in the great Northwest many cities which are prominent for picturesque scenery, social benefits, delightful location, and manufacturing and business advantages, and among this number must be classed the city of Galesburg. We are aware of the fact that, however great the natural and acquired advantages of any city may be, they must be brought before the notice of the public outside of their immediate vicinity ere there can be any benefit derived either by the place offering advantages or those seeking the same. To this end, therefore, we as publishers of "Holland's" Galesburg Directory, give the following brief sketch of one of the most beautiful cities of the West, whose geographical position and railroad and other facilities offer superior inducements. Galesburg is the county seat of Knox county, and is located on the popular and extensive Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, on the height of the water-shed between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers, 163 miles southwest from Chicago. Its early history dates back to 1835, since which time the city has made steady progress in wealth and population, and to-day is the sixth city in the great State of Illinois. In 1836 Rev. Geo. W. Gale, (father of W. Selden Gale, Esq.) with others bought a tract of land containing 11,000 acres in Knox county, and immediately thereafter laid out what is now the city of Galesburg with a population estimated at fourteen thousand inhabitants. The early history of the town is also that of Knox College, as the foundation of one gave rise to the other. As early as 1837 the first buildings were erected and the college opened, and for many years nothing of importance occurred to disturb the even tenor of its prosperity. In 1850 a great tidal wave of railway enterprise and speculation swept over this section, which made the future of the city no longer a question, as it infused new life and vigor into every kind of transaction. Real estate in the town and county rapidly increased in value, and Knox College experienced its endowment of $40,000 increase to over $250,000 in a very short time. In the year 1851, still mindful of its literary birth, the friends of liberal education established Lombard University under the auspices of the Universalist denomination. In 1857 Galesburg became an incorporated city, at which time Hon. H. R. Sanderson was elected its first Mayor, and J. H. Sherman, Edwin Post, Marcus Belden, Jas. F. Dunn, J. W. Cothren and E. M. Jordan, the first aldermen. From this date the city has made steady and satisfactory growth in population, manufactures and general business, and stands to-day among the recognized solid, enterprising and prosperous cities of the West, being located in a county whose soil and advantages are not surpassed in any section of the Union. As a business point the city has no superior, having one of the richest agricultural regions on which to draw for trade in the whole country. Its public buildings, stores, manufactories and residences are of an imposing character, their owners being classed among the comparative few whose solid financial standing is well known at home and abroad. Almost daily the streets are filled with teams and visitors, transacting the enormous business of the city, and although the present depressed condition of trade is felt in all sections, yet much less so in Galesburg than in the majority of cities her size. This is accounted for partially because of her rich agricultural resources and the freedom from debt of most of her citizens. Brown's Corn Planter Works, Frost Manufacturing Company, Union Hotel, Brown's Hotel, Opera House, Metropolitan block, Masonic Hall, Jail, the various warehouses, as well as the larger portion of her business houses and manufactories, are a credit alike to the proprietors and the city, and would do credit to a city much larger than this. The city is beautifully laid out, the streets running at right angles, and the majority are kept in good condition. Especially worthy of notice are Main and Prairie streets, which, since they have been graded and graveled, are among the finest and most substantial thoroughfares of any city in the State. The city is supplied with excellent gas from the Galesburg Gas Light and Coke Company's works, which are among the finest and best constructed works of the kind in Illinois, and especially since having been under the superintendency of J. K. Mitchell have been much eulogized. They have 400 consumers, ten miles of mains, and 135 lamp posts in the city, and with the use of Pittsburgh coal produce gas superior to nine-tenths of similar sized cities. Galesburg is supplied with good schools, churches, libraries, and a full complement of organizations, societies and newspapers, altogether making her one of the finest cities for residence or business purposes to be selected in the West. WE OUGHT HERE TO ENUMERATE the various citizens and business men who have contributed so liberally toward the present prosperity of the city, not by words and wishes merely, but by substantial aid in money, energy and enterprise, but as they would occupy too much space in this part of our work, we defer noticing them until reaching our editorial department.

CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY RAILROAD.

However fortunately located any city may be, yet if her shipping facilities are not good success is usually very common place, hence it is gratifying to be able to record the fact that Galesburg has advantages in this direction superior to the majority of cities her size in the State, notwithstanding the fact that Illinois is one of the great railroad States of the Union. There are in, and running through Illinois, sixty different railroads with 7,365 miles of track, 2,053 miles of siding, making in all 9,418 miles. Over 40,000 hands are employed, while the roads carry 20,000,000 passengers, and between seven and eight million tons of freight annually. The total annual receipts from all sources foot $40,000,000, operating expenses being $24,500,000, thus leaving a net profit for dividends, &c., of $15,500,000. From these condensed and valuable figures it will be seen how important and indispensable are the railroads of this State; and, out of the great number, Galesburg has one whose value to her interests can scarcely be overestimated. We allude to the CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY RAILROAD, which, from its leading position as "cheapest, best and quickest," has long been known as the "Old Reliable." This road operates nearly, if not quite, 2,000 miles of road, all of which is equipped in a superior manner. Galesburg is located on this road, 163 miles from Chicago, 100 miles from Quincy, 43 miles from Burlington and 53 from Peoria, from which it will be seen any point can be reached by this important road, north, south, east and west. This is one of the principal points of the road, its shops being among the largest and best equipped in the Union. Here are employed some 800 hands, including the trainmen and conductors, and here are distributed monthly about $75,000. Who can properly estimate the advantage of this road both for this immense monthly disbursement, and for the shipping facilities it gives to the merchants and manufacturers of the city? The road has always been acknowledged among the very best equipped in the country, each and every officer and also the whole of the subordinate employes being courteous and obliging, while its management has always aimed at charging only fair rates for freight and passenger traffic. The business of the road as a consequence is constantly increasing, the property improving and gaining in value as it runs through as fine a country as can be found on this continent.

THE C. B. & Q. STOCK YARDS were opened for the transfer and loading of stock on the 1st of August, 1870, with a capacity of fifty cars. Since then several additions have been made until their present capacity is two hundred cars. These being the nearest feed yards to Chicago make it the most desirable point to hold stock during a hard market, to which many prudent shippers who have availed themselves of its advantages can testify. The large increase in the stock business at this point has created a good and permanent market for feed, which adds materially to the commercial prosperity of Galesburg. During last year there was consumed at these yards over six hundred tons of hay and over twelve thousand bushels of corn. Mr. Wilkins Seacord, a resident of Knox Co. since 1855, an old stock man and an ex-sheriff of the county, has had the superintendency of these yards since their organization, and has also the yards at Quincy under his control. A large part of their success and standing is due to his indefatigable energy, promptness, and thorough attention to his duties. Mr. Wm. O. Lovejoy has held the position of bookkeeper and office manager for the past six years, and Mr. Asbury Cochran as yard master for three years, and the duties of each have been preformed in a praiseworthy manner. A great deal of the the success of railroads, as well as all important undertakings, depend largely for their success and standing upon the heads of departments, in view of which it is but just to say that Henry Hitchcock, Esq., the division superintendent, at this point, has been connected with this road over twenty years, and so well qualified is he for that position that he has contributed largely to the interests of the company, and at the same time secured a name as a railroad man of prominence and citizen but seldom acquired by any gentleman holding a similar position. James W. Cothren is still the efficient and obliging freight agent, having held this position with fidelity and ability since 1854. Chas. G. Hurd has been connected with the road since 1863, and since 1866 occupied the position of ticket agent, and it is but fair to state that no man commands higher esteem than he for the faithful discharge of his duties, and for his excellent personal reputation. J. D. Besler has been in the employ of the company for twenty-three years, and holds the position of assistant division superintendent with recognized ability. Robert W. Colville, an employe since 1862, is master mechanic, and acquits himself in an admirable manner in his responsible and trying position. Altogether the C. B. & Q. R. R. is of great importance and advantage to Galesburg, and receives every encouragement from its citizens, while every facility is given by the company consistent with self-preservation, which is how it should be, for their interests are identical.

KNOX COLLEGE

was founded in 1837, fully organized as a college in 1841, and had its origin in a plan of Christian benevolence. Half the township of land now known as Galesburg, was originally purchased by a company formed at Whitesboro, New York, by Rev. George W. Gale, as an endowment for the college. The land was purchased at the government price, and re-purchased of the company by its individual members at an average of $5 per acre. The land remaining unsold and the cash proceeds constituted the endowment of the college. Nearly 100 acres of this land, situated near the heart of the city, remain unsold. The college has never yet been rich in money, but has substantial and commodious buildings, real estate and other property which is increasing in value, and will in future years be an ample endowment. The college is under a Board of Trustees, representing various evangelical churches, and has adopted a well defined policy which will be steadily pursued till it shall reach the position among the leading colleges of the country to which its origin and resources entitle it. The college proper is modeled upon the plan of the American College, intended to be in the highest degree practical, not in the sense that it will fit its students for any particular calling, but in the sense that it will impart that culture and knowledge which are so essential as a basis of the highest success in all callings. For this purpose the study of Latin, Greek and Mathematics are especially employed. With these two modern languages, together with the natural Sciences, and the various studies of Philosophy, Logic, Rhetoric, General History and Literature, are united. In this institution the college is the object of chief solicitude and care, as it gives a character to the many schools about it. The scientific school is connected with the college proper, its course being selected from the studies of the regular college curriculum, excluding the ancient languages and including the modern languages, Mathematics and the natural Sciences.

THE FEMALE SEMINARY.—Parallel with the college course is the collegiate course of the Seminary, extending over four years. This course is pursued under the instruction both of the special Seminary faculty and the College Faculty in a separate building, and usually in separate classes.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY.

Lombard University had its origin in the deep religious convictions and zeal of persons who felt the need of an institution of sound and varied learning, in which the best training of the intellect and the affections should be secured, while the minds of pupils should be left untrammelled by narrow sectarian dogmas. It has been sustained as a liberal, Christian school; and while seeking in all its departments to give appropriate instruction and needed discipline, it has endeavored also to exert a highly moral and truly religious influence. It was chartered under the name of the "Illinois Liberal Institute," February 15th, 1851, and was opened for instruction August 29th, 1852. It became a college by charter amendment, January 26th, 1853, and the building was burned September 27th, 1855. The present University building, a gothic edifice, three stories high, 80 feet long and 66 feet wide, was erected in 1856, in honor of Benjamin Lombard, who had made a large donation to the institution, and was by the amendment of its charter, approved Feb. 14th, 1857, named Lombard University. It is the purpose of Lombard University to afford to students of either sex equal opportunities for thorough courses of instruction, and the studies pursued have been arranged: First, To provide a full collegiate course of four years, such as is usually pursued in the best colleges and universities in this country. Second, To accommodate those to whose circumstances it may be specially adapted, with a Scientific course, of the the same length, and so arranged as to combine with practical knowledge, intellectual culture and discipline. Third, To provide a Literary course for those who do not desire to pursue the regular Classical or Scientific course of the Institution. It also occupies a period of four years. Fourth, To afford a thorough preparation for each of the collegiate courses. Fifth, To meet the wants of those who are unable to pursue either of the regular courses of the Institution. It also embraces at this time two departments of instruction—the Collegiate and Preparatory. The Collegiate includes three courses of instruction of four years each; a full Classical course, such as is usually pursued in the best colleges of this country; a Scientific course; and a Literary course including more study of Languages and less Mathematics than the Scientific course. The preparatory department, under the supervision of a good disciplinarian and teacher, includes the studies required to enter the different courses of the Collegiate department, and, in view of a preparation for business and teaching, the various other branches usually taught in Academies and High schools.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In the list of advantages possessed by Galesburg, none is greater than that of her institutions of learning, her temples of instruction, and her seats of popular and general education. Conforming to the requirements of the age of progress and advancement, readily appreciating and acknowledging the fact that a people to be free, intelligent and useful, must be educated, our citizens have sought by extending a liberal hand to foster and promote within our midst the glorious and beneficent scheme of popular education. Galesburg has said to her citizens, educate your children, instruct your youth without money and without price; thus placing within the reach of all, even the lowest, humblest and poorest, the greatest blessing that could be bestowed—a good and generous education. The charter for the establishment of the present school system was obtained in February, 1859. The board consists of seven members, one from each ward, who are elected by the people for a term of three years. The Mayor of the city is ex-officio president of the board, and a majority of the directors with or without the Mayor, constitute a quorum. The present board consists of the following gentlemen named in the order of the ward they represent: Dr. Geo. W. Foote, Nels. Nelson, Geo. A. Murdoch, G. L. Arnold, W. C. Calkins, L. T. Stone, and T. L. Clark. The board has power to raise all necessary money for school purposes, employ teachers, lease or purchase school sites, erect suitable buildings, and make rules and regulations for the government of the schools. Great credit is due the ability the various boards have displayed, and the liberality exhibited along with creditable economy in providing the city with unsurpassed schools and buildings, which excel any others in any inland town in the State the size of this. Each of the seven wards has an elegant and commodious brick building, while the High School would do credit to a city of the pretensions of Chicago, and cost over $60,000. It has ten rooms in all and well adapted for the purposes for which it was erected. The schools are graded but are so conducted that bright, healthy pupils are in no way hindered from advancing as rapidly as their ability and application warrant, special promotions being of frequent occurrence. During the year ending May 31, 1878, there were enrolled in the schools 2,242 pupils, and in the various buildings were amply accommodated. There are at present thirty-four teachers employed besides the superintendent, and it is a common remark that no body of teachers in the West perform their arduous duties more satisfactorily than they. The citizens of Galesburg have cause to congratulate themselves on the success of their public schools, as they reflect credit on themselves and those entrusted with their management.

THE CATHOLIC SCHOOL, erected near the Catholic Church, is a fine and imposing brick structure, and has accommodation for 600 pupils. It is specially for the children of the members of this congregation, yet none are excluded from admission. The building is 36x80 feet, three stories high and basement, and cost about $20,000. It was erected by Messrs. Parry, Stevens & Smith, and reflects credit on each as master builders.

GALESBURG PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Galesburg, foremost among similar cities of Illinois, can lay claim to having one of the finest public libraries and reading rooms in the State. It was opened to the public in the winter of 1873 and 4, although the city had a library in existence from the year 1858, whose books, consisting of 3732 volumes, were generously donated to the public library. The rooms are located in the Metropolitan block, No. 10 E. Main street, and are very nicely arranged, but scarcely large enough for the great numbers that enjoy its benefits. There are now in the library 7115 volumes, 9 daily newspapers, 34 weeklies and 14 monthlies. The library is open from 2 to 9 p. m., daily, Sundays excepted. There are nine directors, whose meetings are held the first Friday in each month. The present members are: J. W. Cothren, President; Dr. G. W. Foote, Dr. A. G. Humphrey, Prof. Geo. Churchill, P. M. Johnson, Dr. E. C. Stone, T. J. Hale, H. W. Belden and Wm. Davis. The librarian is Mrs. F. A. Smith, a position she has very acceptably and efficiently held since October 21st, 1874.

CITY OFFICERS (Past and Present).

The city of Galesburg is now in the twenty-second year of its chartered existence, and although so many substantial improvements have been made during this time, and so much money donated for the advancement of the interests of the city, yet its indebtedness is but $76,315, while taxes are very light compared with many similar cities. Below we give the names of the various officers of the city, from its incorporation to the present time, and presume this item alone will be highly prized by those who are yet living, and also by those whose relatives have passed away, but who had the confidence of their fellow-citizens to an eminent degree, as is proven in being classed among that list of intelligent, responsible and prominent men who have steered the affairs of the city to its present proud prominence.

Hunt, Chas. E. Grant, M. G. Kennedy, Chas. Selk; City Clerk, Wm. A. Ryan; Treasurer, Dave T. Dickson; Marshal, Timothy F. Hamblin; Attorney, F. C. Smith.

CITY POLICE FORCE.

Galesburg being an orderly and well regulated city, there is very little need of a large police force. The present force consists of four policemen, and the city marshal. The marshal is Timothy F. Hamblin, who had to resign his position of alderman of the 4th ward to accept this office. He has been in Galesburg since 1861, and besides being a popular citizen, is well liked for the rigid and without kind manner in which he discharges the duties of the office he holds. The officers under him are Edward Morrissey, Harlan P. Sumner, John Q. Adams, and Albert S. Hughes, each having been in this vicinity many years and well qualified for the arduous position they occupy. The office and city prison are located at 7 N. Cherry street, at which location the marshal resides.

COURT HOUSE AND COUNTY OFFICERS.

While the county buildings of Knoxville are not as large and ornamental as some others, or expensive as the wealth of the county might easily afford, yet they answer the purposes for which they are used. The Opera House is used as Court Room and Treasurer's office, while the records are kept in a separate building on Cherry south of Simmons street, where also is the Probate Judge's, County Clerk's and Recorder's offices. It will thus be seen that the county's interests are in different parts of the city, but ere long, we understand, an elegant and substantial Court House will be erected either in the city park or the public square, the city giving the county the choice of location for that purpose. The Jail is the only creditable building owned by the county, and in this the officials have exhibited much good taste, sense and economy. It is located on South Cherry street, and is built of brick and stone at a cost of $42,000 and was constructed by those master workmen, Messrs. Parry & Stevens. It contains thirty cells built of solid flag stone, besides four ordinary debtors' cells. In this structure is also the Sheriff's residence, everything being arranged very conveniently, and kept by the present incumbent scrupulously clean and in fine order. A. W. Berggren, the Sheriff, came to this county in 1856, having resided here mostly since that date. In 1869 dates the first official position he ever held, which was that of Justice of the Peace, whose duties he faithfully discharged until December, 1872, when he resigned and was sworn in as Sheriff, a position to which he had been elected the previous November. Since that day he has held this position, entering upon his fourth term on December 1, 1878. During this time, all will admit that he has very acceptably filled the duties of the office, and done himself much credit and the county efficient service. He has reason to feel proud of the honor thus conferred on him, as no other man ever held the same office as many years as he. It proves however, the confidence the citizens have in his integrity and qualifications for the shrievalty. The county is fortunate in having a well qualified number of gentlemen for officials, as most of them are old and well-tried settlers, while each is held in high esteem by his fellow citizens. Their names are: August W. Berggren, Sheriff, with Bolivar Blood as deputy; James L. Burkhalter, Treasurer; Geo. L. Hananian, Circuit Clerk and Recorder; John S. Winter, Clerk; Dr. A. S. Slater, Coroner; H. J. Vaughan, Surveyor; Miss Mary Allen West, Superintendent of Schools.

CIRCUIT COURT.

This is the 10th Judicial Circuit of Illinois whose judges are Hon. Arthur A. Smith, of Galesburg; John J. Glenn, of Monmouth; and Geo. W. Pleasants, of Rock Island. The terms are held first Monday in February and June, and the third Monday in October. John J. Tunnickliff, State's Attorney; James B. Boggs, Master in Chancery.

COUNTY COURT.

Terms for probate business held the third Monday in each month, and common law terms, second Monday in April, August and December. Dennis Clark, Judge; John S. Winter, Clerk.

CHURCHES.

Persons seeking new locations for business or residence purposes, usually inquire into the religious and educational advantages of the different localities, and as in her various other inducements Galesburg sustains more than an average prominence in this important particular. There are seventeen church edifices in this city, whose names, location, pastors, and time of holding service, will be found below:

BAPTIST CHURCH, Cherry, cor. Tompkins, Rev. J. W. T. Boothe, pastor. Services 10.30 a. m., 7.30 p. m. Sunday school, noon.

BAPTIST CHURCH (African), Cherry, cor. South, Rev. J. C. Graves, pastor. Services 11 a. m., 7.30 p. m. Sunday school, noon.

In 1869 dates the first official position he ever held, which was that of Justice of the Peace, whose duties he faithfully discharged until December, 1872, when he resigned and was sworn in as Sheriff, a position to which he had been elected the previous November. Since that day he has held this position, entering upon his fourth term on December 1, 1878. During this time, all will admit that he has very acceptably filled the duties of the office, and done himself much credit and the county efficient service. He has reason to feel proud of the honor thus conferred on him, as no other man ever held the same office as many years as he. It proves however, the confidence the citizens have in his integrity and qualifications for the shrievalty. The county is fortunate in having a well qualified number of gentlemen for officials, as most of them are old and well-trying settlers, while each is held in high esteem by his fellow citizens. Their names are: August W. Berggren, Sheriff, with Bolivar Blood as deputy; James L. Burkhalter, Treasurer; Geo. L. Hannaman, Circuit Clerk and Recorder; John S. Winter, Clerk; Dr. A. S. Slater, Coroner; H. J. Vaughan, Surveyor; Miss Mary Allen West, Superintendent of Schools.

CIRCUIT COURT.

This is the 10th Judicial Circuit of Illinois whose judges are Hon. Arthur A. Smith, of Galesburg; John J. Glenn, of Monmouth; and Geo. W. Pleasants, of Rock Island. The terms are held first Monday in February and June, and the third Monday in October. John J. Tunncliff, State's Attorney; James B. Boggs, Master in Chancery.

COUNTY COURT.

Terms for probate business held the third Monday in each month, and common law terms, second Monday in April, August and December. Dennis Clark, Judge; John S. Winter, Clerk.

CHURCHES.

Persons seeking new locations for business or residence purposes, usually inquire into the religious and educational advantages of the different localities, and as in her various other inducements Galesburg sustains more than an average prominence in this important particular. There are seventeen church edifices in this city, whose names, location,

HOPE CEMETERY.

HOPE CEMETERY is owned by the "Hope Cemetery Association," which was organized on the 26th of October, 1858. It is located at the west end of Simmons street, and contains many acres, five of which were added in 1875. The whole is laid out in lots, set out with fine ornamental and shade trees and shrubs, the walks and drives being in accordance with everything that is undertaken by the enterprising citizens of Galesburg. G. Peterson is the efficient and obliging sexton.

MASONIC.

The Masonic Hall is located on the southeast corner of Main and Prairie streets, over postoffice, the entrance being at 54 Main street. While it is not one of the finest halls in the State, yet it is very creditable, but what is of more importance is the fact that the three hundred members composing the fraternity of Galesburg, hold a very high place in and out of the order, for their charity, integrity and benevolence. The name and number of Lodges, Chapter and Commandery, with the principal officers, together with time of holding meetings, will be found below. Rowley Page is Deputy Grand Master for District 13, which includes Knox, Warren and Henderson counties.

ODD FELLOWS.

Odd Fellowship, which is in the sixtieth year of its existence, has spread during that time over a large part of the globe. It is well and creditably represented in Galesburg, and includes among its members several of the leading lights of the Order. Its hall is located at No. 8 East Main street, Metropolitan block, and in size, arrangement and furnishing, as well as attendance, goes to prove the great interest taken in its principles by its members.

GALESBURG LODGE, No. 142, was instituted March 16, 1854. Regular meetings every Monday evening. Officers—O. P. Shaffer, N. G.; F. M. Chase, V. G.; Lake W. Sanborn, Per. and Rec. Sec'y; Geo. Boemler, Treas.

FIRST SCANDINAVIAN LODGE, No. 446, was instituted Jan'y 26, 1871. Regular meetings every Tuesday evening. Officers—P. N. Granvill, N. G.; John W. Anderson, V. G.; D. L. Peterson, Sec'y; J. F. Anderson, Per. Sec'y; C. E. Lanstrum, Treas.

VERITAS LODGE, No. 478, was instituted Feb'y 14, 1872. Regular meetings every Thursday evening. Officers—C. A. Winsor, N. G.; Geo. D. Eustis, V. G.; S. W. Grubb, Sec'y; P. R. Corbin, Per. Sec'y; J. F. Barker, Treas.

COLFAX ENCAMPMENT, No. 28, was instituted January 9, 1855. Regular meetings second and fourth Friday evenings of each month. Officers—E. F. Phelps, C. P.; A. W. Berggren, H. P. A. G. Humphrey, S. W.; Edward Raidler, J. W.; Max J. Mack, Scribe; Z. Beatty, Treas.

TEMPERANCE SOCIETIES.

Prominent among the temperance organizations of Galesburg stands the "Red Ribbon Reform Club," which had its origin in the great Reynolds' movement, and was formally organized by Dr. Henry A. Reynolds on the 8th of December, 1877, and now numbers about one thousand members, many of whom are earnest, active and devoted temperance workers. Its object is to reclaim men and women too from the vice of drinking, and during the past year has accomplished a great amount of good and is in a prosperous and flourishing condition. Speaking in this connection we must not forget to mention the well-conducted reading-room under its patronage, where may be found a good collection of secular and religious newspapers and magazines, all of which are open to the general public, and everybody is cordially invited to partake of its benefits. Mass temperance meetings are held every Sunday under the direction of the club, which the public are sincerely urged to attend. This room is located corner Main and Prairie streets, next to post office, over which business meetings are held every Monday evening at 7½ o'clock. Its officers are: Wm. Houlding, Prest.; R. C. Hunt, Sec'y; S. M. Arnold, Treas.; E. W. Hazzard, Fin. Sec'y.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION is doing a good work and is a grand auxilliary to the Reform Club. It was organized in 1874, and holds meetings every Thursday in the Red Ribbon rooms. Officers—Mrs. M. L. Hyde, Prest.; Mrs. John W. Dieterich, Cor. Sec'y; Mrs. Dr. Hurd, Treas.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION was organized in March, 1878, and holds business meetings every Wednesday A. M. at the temperance coffee rooms of Mrs. Durham, 29 South Prairie street. Officers—Mrs. Wm. Davis, Prest.; Mrs. O. T. Johnson, Vice Prest.; Miss Emma Everest, Sec'y; Mrs. E. M. Young, Treas.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF TEMPERANCE, Galesburg Division, No. 14, was organized in 1870, and has been in active operation since and now numbers 250 members, mostly young people, and is the largest division in the State. The meetings are held every Tuesday evening at their Hall, No. 6 East Main street. Officers—

Forrest F. Cook, W. P.; Miss Clara Stilson, Rec. Sec'y.

SWEA LODGE, No. 315, Independent Order of Good Templars, meets every Friday evening at their hall, 45 East Main street. It is in a flourishing condition, having 120 active members. Officers—P. N. Granvill, W. C. T.; Chas. Gabrielson, R. S.; F. O. Peterson, Fin. Sec'y; Miss Emma Anderson, Treas.

THE FRIENDLY SONS OF ST. PATRICK, organized in 1869, numbers about 100 members and is rapidly increasing in membership. Officers—M. G. Kennedy, Prest.; Patrick Slattery, Sec'y; Maurice Maroney, Treas.

ST. PAUL'S T. A. S., organized December, 1877, now numbers 130 members. Meetings held second and fourth Sundays in each month, at the new Catholic school house. Officers—Rev. Joseph Costa, Prest.; Patrick Brown, Sec'y; John P. Hickey, Treas.

COLLEGE CITY BAND.

Every city of importance should have a well organized and drilled band, and Galesburg, never behind in the various improvements that add to pleasure and benefit, is not behind in this regard. She has in the above band one of the most efficient in the west. It is now known as the "College City Band," having been known until recently as "Waste's Opera Band. Five members own and control it, the band being composed of 12 first-class musicians. Their band rooms are over J. R. Gordon's old established clothing establishment, 22 Main street, and the following are the officers: J. Stofft, President; A. D. Waste, Sec'y; Wm. J. Plecher, Treasurer; Horace Simmons, leader.

GALESBURG PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY

is an incorporated organization and is on a sure and solid basis. It has been in existence for the past seven years, but only as an incorporated society since May 29th, 1878. Its incorporators are Alonzo Wookey, Edward Q. Adams and Milton E. Churchill, with a board of five directors. Its object is "the musical improvement of its members in the art and rendition of music, and the development of musical taste within the sphere of its influence." It has one hundred members, and during the past four years has given a grand Oratorio annually, and purposes repeating them each season. The society has finely fitted and furnished rooms at 8 E. Main street, where meetings are held every Monday evening. Officers—A. Wookey, President; F. G. Sanburn, Vice-President; M. E. Churchill, Secretary; N. C. Woods, Treasurer; Prof. Carl Laux, Musical Director.

KNOX COUNTY BIBLE SOCIETY

has been in active existence over thirty years, and along with the GALESBURG CITY SOCIETY, has done a good work in distributing the Bible throughout this vicinity, either by purchase or gift. S. N. Grose is the Secretary and Depository for each society and may be found at his book and stationery store, 8 E. Main street.

ANCIENT ORDER UNITED WORKMEN.

The above order meets at 16 Main, corner Cherry street, over Devendorf's drug store, every Friday evening, the Lodge here organized numbering about thirty members. Officers—D. J. Hecker, M. W.; P. F. Clark, G. F.; S. H. Olson, Rec.; Frank A. Brown, Fin. R.

THE KNIGHTS OF HONOR, Lodge No. 884 was organized May, 1878, and has quite a respectable membership already, the order in the United States having over 46,000 members. Meetings held in G. A. R. Hall second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Officers—J. H. Calkins, D.; E. C. Stone, V. D.; H. W. Carpenter, Sec'y; Solomon Spear, Treas.

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF MUTUAL AID, Unity Lodge, was organized in this city November, 1878, and has about thirty members, over 6,000 belonging to the organization in the Union. Meetings held first and third Tuesday of each month in G. A. R. Hall. Officers—Dr. E. C. Stone, Pres't; John T. Bassett, Vice Pres't; Geo. W. Waldron, Sec'y; Henry F. Leonard, Treas.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

This organization, known throughout our land as the Grand Army of the Republic, sprung into existence soon after the close of the late rebellion, and has been the means of doing a great deal of good, both in keeping alive the glow of patriotism which caused its members to risk their lives for the country, and in protecting and caring for the disabled Union soldiers and the widows and orphans of those who fell. It is composed of soldiers, sailors, marines, and honorably discharged soldiers of the United States, who aided in maintaining the honor, integrity and supremacy of the national government during the rebellion. The objects of the order are to preserve and strengthen the union and fraternal feelings which bind together soldiers, sailors and marines who united to suppress the rebellion; to assist former comrades in arms who need help and protection, and to extend needful aid to the widows and orphans of those who have fallen. Its motto is: Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

FIRE DEPARTMENT AND WATER SUPPLY.

It is acknowledged that the safety and protection of our homes and other property from the fire fiend is one of the first considerations of importance in selecting a residence or business location. Especially is this to be considered in a business point of view, and in this respect Galesburg will bear favorable comparison with much larger cities. She has in years past suffered to a great extent from the ravages of fire, but this has only increased the precaution of her citizens, both in erecting practically fire-proof business houses and blocks, and providing the most valuable part of the city with ample protection for subduing any fire that may occur in the future, before it shall spread to an alarming extent. The present fire department is composed chiefly of business men and their employes. The force at the present consists of one Engine Company of thirty men, two Hose Companies aggregating forty men, and one Hook and Ladder Company of forty men. The appliances operated by this force consists of one hand engine and two powerful fire pumps, one located at Geo. W. Brown's Corn Planter Works, and the other at Frost Manufacturing Company's Works, operated by steam. These pumps are connected by water mains to hydrants distributed throughout the business portions of the city, and of themselves furnish thorough protection when the apparatus is directed by the skilful hands of the members of the department. The ENGINE COMPANY is provided with all the appliances for fighting the fire fiend, with W. N. Harvey as foreman. STEWART HOSE COMPANY has a fine four-wheeled carriage, with Geo. W. Williams as foreman. No. 2 HOSE COMPANY has also a fine four-wheeled carriage, with Dide Peterson as foreman. THE HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY is fully supplied with truck, ladders, hooks, axes, and all the appliances necessary for its particular branch of the organization, with Fritz Muehlberger as foreman. The Hose Companies are provided with 2,000 feet of hose, three carts, and all other necessary articles to insure efficiency. The members of the fire department are clothed with police authority at the time of fire, their duty being to preserve order and remove and protect all property jeopardized by fire and those contemptible scoundrels whose sympathies lead them so often to congregate at conflagrations for the purpose of plunder. Since the organization of the present department, the members have had considerable hard work to perform, but have acquitted themselves in an admirable and satisfactory manner to all concerned, and may truthfully be classed among the efficient and deserving firemen of the West.

GEO. W. BROWN'S HOSE COMPANY is an adjunct of the regular department, and we should be remiss to omit to mention it. It is in all particulars very complete, both in apparatus and the efficiency of its fourteen members. While it is a private company, yet Geo. W. Brown with his usual generosity extends its use to the city in time of need. It has a fine hose cart, 1,000 feet of hose, a substantial brick building in which the apparatus is kept, and over which is a neatly furnished and carpeted hall where meetings are held. This, with water pipes and hose running through every department of Brown's immense corn planter works, makes their destruction by fire almost impossible, as well as gives additional safety to the city property generally. Augustus O. Peterson is the foreman, and the assistant chief of the fire department of the city. TORNADO ENGINE AND STEWART HOSE HOUSE is located at 5 N. Cherry street. NO. 2 HOSE CARRIAGE is kept on S. Prairie, in the rear of Brown's corn planter works. RESCUE HOOK AND LADDER TRUCK is kept at 8 S. Prairie street, over which is the firemen's Hall where the meetings of the various companies are held. Henry W. Carpenter is the efficient Chief Engineer, to whom and his assistant, A. O. Peterson, much of the efficiency of the department is due.

THE WESTERN ILLINOIS FAIR

Association should not be omitted, as we presume it is destined to be one of the most important and prosperous institutions of Galesburg in the immediate future. It is in the hands of officers of undoubted ability, and has a large number of stockholders, who rank among our most successful merchants. It is an incorporated company according to the laws of the State, with a capital of $8,000, and owns grounds containing sixty acres, very eligibly located and within easy distance of all parts of the city. Here is one of the finest amphitheatres, 200 feet long, 275 fine stalls, many 12 feet square, with shingled roofs, a one-mile track, and everything in fine order. Fairs are held twice a year, in July and September. Officers—H. M. Sisson, Prest.; H. W. Carpenter, Sec'y; A. A. Matteson, Treas.

NEWSPAPERS.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY REPUBLICAN-REGISTER was formerly the (weekly) Republican and the (daily and weekly) Register, and were consolidated on the 1st of December, 1872. The Galesburg Printing Company, incorporated under the general laws of the State of Illinois, with a capital stock of $15,000, are the publishers, Geo. V. Dieterich being the President; Z. Beatty, Vice-President; S. W. Grubb, Secretary and Treasurer. The two latter-named gentlemen are editor and business manager respectively, under whose able management the Republican-Register, as well as the general job department, are in a prosperous condition. The paper is Republican in politics and the leading organ of that party in the county as well as unrivaled in this vicinity in circulation and advertising patronage. The job department is one of the largest, best appointed and most complete of the kind in the State outside of Chicago, the cylinder and job presses being all run by steam, while the type is new and embraces all the latest styles. This department enjoys an extensive and enviable reputation for excellence of work and very reasonable prices. The Daily Republican-Register delivered by carrier for one year is $6.00, and for one month but 50 cents; the weekly being $2.00 per annum, or $1.00 for six months.

THE GALESBURG PRESS has been published twenty-six years, and is the oldest paper in Knox county. The present publishers purchased the establishment in November, 1872, and since then have issued a daily in connection with the weekly. Mr. M. S. Barnes, the present editor, is probably the oldest newspaper man in Illinois, and although only 54 years of age, he has been connected with the business forty-one years, and a publisher thirty-eight years. He came to Illinois in December, 1838, but his first newspaper venture was in 1840, when he advocated the election of Martin Van Buren to the Presidency. He has also had a military experience. During the Mexican war he was a member of Company E, Second Regiment Illinois Volunteers, known as Col. Bissell's regiment, and participated in the battle of Buena Vista, and was highly complimented by Gen. John E. Wool, in General Orders No. 30, for his conduct at the battle. During the late Rebellion, he was Colonel of the 37th Illinois Volunteers, and participated in all the movements of our troops in Missouri and Arkansas.

Mr. Barnes has associated with him in the editorial department, his son W. Bennet Barnes, who has charge of the local department, and in that capacity makes one of the best reading columns of any paper in the city. Both these gentlemen are industrious workers, and are determined to make the Press, both daily and weekly, acceptable to the general reader. By their industry and tact they have been enabled to build up a fair business, and the Press office is one of the established institutions of the city.

THE PLAINDEALER is a weekly Independent Republican newspaper, published every Saturday at No. 20 Main street, by Judson Graves. It was started January 1, 1873, as a semi-weekly paper by the name of The Republic, and was continued as such three months, when it was reduced to a weekly. It was published under the above name until October 1, 1874, when, on account of the similarity of name to other papers in the county, the name was changed to The Plaindealer, which it has borne ever since. It has a large subscription list in Knox, Warren, and adjoining counties, and is upon a paying basis. In politics it is Independent Republican and Liberal. It claims the right of everybody to express their views upon all questions, without fear or favor, and denounces intolerance, fanaticism and bigotry in unsparing terms. Connected with the establishment is a first-class book and job printing office, where all descriptions of work is executed with neatness and dispatch, and at prices to suit the times. The editor and proprietor of the Plaindealer is one of the oldest, best known newspaper men and practical printers in Illinois, having been in and near to Chicago considerably over twenty years.

CONCLUSION OF HISTORICAL PART.

The first department of our work is now finished, and before entering upon the pleasant task of writing individual notices on the various prosperous and enterprising business houses and manufacturing institutions, we would say that we have endeavored, at much labor and expense, to give a notice on every important society and organization in the city. For the assistance rendered in this arduous task, we return our thanks to each one who has aided us, and especially to the members of the press, who so excellently represent the city and its citizens through their able and representative newspapers.

GENERAL EDITORIAL AND HISTORICAL REVIEW,

EMBRACING THE LEADING

MANUFACTURERS, PROFESSIONAL MEN AND BUSINESS HOUSES,

IN THE

CITY OF GALESBURG, ILLINOIS.

In this department of our work it is our intention to give voluntary notices on the various citizens and business men whose commendable enterprise and public spirited actions have contributed so largely to the present proud position Galesburg occupies, and which shall show the position they maintain in the community, and the advantages they offer the purchasing public. The first to claim our attention is

THE UNION HOTEL, by R. S. Brownell.

We believe that no one thing gives to a city greater prestige and popularity than excellent hotel accommodations, yet how few cities, comparatively speaking, provide suitable conveniences in this direction. Many cities of the size and attractions of Galesburg lack enterprise in this particular, which to the minds of all travelers and visitors and most thoughtful persons, is one of the greatest drawbacks and hindrances to the prosperity of any city that can be named. As in many other respects, however, Galesburg is alive to this important advantage, and compares very favorably with the most advanced western cities in hotel accommodation, which, however, has not always been the case. She has made this provision through the enterprise and public spirit of a number of her leading citizens in the hotel line, and may now justly lay claim to having accommodations sufficient for some time to come, however great may be her growth in population and business expansion. The oldest and first hotel of any pretensions ever built in the city was the UNION, which was erected by the Galesburg Hotel Company, and opened in October, 1870. Shortly after its opening it was unfortunately burned down, but the stockholders, nothing daunted, and being determined that the city should be possessed of a first-class hotel, immediately went to work and erected the present structure, which, including the ground, cost $100,000. It is a fine and imposing structure, 114 by 90 feet, and contains nearly 100 rooms. It has never yet been a paying investment directly, but indirectly the investors have been abundantly repaid, as it has attracted large numbers to the city who would have remained away but for the advantages afforded at this hostelry. Hon. Chauncey S. Colton, that old pioneer whose hand has been seen in numerous of the solid undertakings of this locality, was one of the leading spirits in this enterprise, and for various reasons has had to take the whole structure on his own shoulders, and to-day is its sole owner. This change occurred but a few months ago, since when, at the suggestion of host Brownell, he has made many improvements, and in the spring he informs us intends commencing others which he will continue until the UNION HOTEL shall be a model of convenience and perfection and the pride of every inhabitant of Galesburg. Among the additions worthy of special mention are the fine sample rooms for commercial travelers, which in number, size and convenience excels those in most cities the size of this. Notwithstanding the fact that the right man owns the building, yet if it be not conducted by an experienced and popular landlord, the venture is a failure. The owner, however, in this instance has no doubt secured a gentleman whose experience and knowledge of hotel keeping is far ahead of the majority of persons that might be named, while his gentlemanly bearing and social qualifications are a matter of pleasure and remark by the thousands whose acquaintance he enjoys. R. S. Brownell, the proprietor, is a Boston gentleman, and where he was for a number of years, up to the spring of 1873, the chief clerk in the Revere House. This gave him an opportunity of forming the acquaintance of numerous western gentlemen, so that when he moved to the West he was greeted by a host of friends. On the 10th of April, 1873, he opened the Sherman House, Chicago, as chief clerk, in which capacity he remained until February 17th, the following year, when the proprietor would have none other than he to open in a similar capacity the Tremont House. At each of these first-class hotels he gained such a popularity that almost any similar position was open to him in the West, and on the 15th of December, 1876, Potter Palmer engaged him as chief clerk for the Palmer House. Here he remained until the 6th of December, 1877, when he became proprietor along with Geo. W. Munday, now of the Gorham House, Burlington, of the UNION HOTEL. This partnership continued until May, 1878, when Mr. Brownell took the house alone, under a lease covering a period of five years. It will thus be seen that although the UNION has met with losses, and experienced various changes, that at the present time, with owner and landlord so well adapted with finances and experience, that the traveling public may rest assured of having first-class accommodation here. The table is kept up to an epicurean standard, and supplied with an abundance of everything the market affords in season, while everything about the hotel is kept clean and in fine order. Attached to the hotel is an elegant bar and billiard room, where only the best cigars and beverages are dispensed, and where on Saturday evenings an immense and elaborate free lunch is served, attracting an immense patronage. Mr. Brownell has proven himself since coming here to be a landlord of liberal views and genial habits, and has shown his liberality by contributing to everything that tended to advance the interests of the city wherein he is doing business. He has made many friends since coming here, and he is determined that the UNION HOTEL shall be in reality as well as name first-class in every particular, and a house in which every citizen shall feel a pride. It would hardly be right to close this notice without saying that the old stand-by, "Judd" Gowdey, still resides at the desk, where he has been mostly since the opening of the house. He has been a resident of this city over twenty years, and no more popular hotel clerk holds a similar position than the ever pleasant and affable "Judd." We would add also a very deserved compliment to the table maids, most of whom have been with the house since its opening, as no house in the country has a more efficient, obliging and attentive number than the UNION HOTEL.

GEO. W. BROWN'S CORN PLANTER WORKS.

To the men who can look back upon the trade in the early days of Galesburg, the magnitude of some of the present business establishments and manufactories must appear amazing. The expansion of several of the most prominent ones is really wonderful. A few of them in, immensity and in variety, quality and quantity of goods offered for sale and manufactured, fully equal the stores or manufac-ories in the largest cities in the country. Among them, the establishment of that large-hearted pioneer and inventor, Geo. W. Brown, is a notable example of the progress made in the past few years in the manufacture of implements for the farmers' use. His valuable experience in all matters pertaining to this business, his keen apprehension of the wants of the farmers, especially in the west, his promptitude and completeness with which he meets these wants, his enormous resources and extensive facilities for supplying every demand of the farm, together with the careful and systematic methods followed in the management in the affairs afford some little explanation for the prosperity which has attended his manufacturing career. This business was first established in 1853, and from a small beginning has grown into the largest private institution in the city, and the largest Corn Planter manufactory in the world, giving employment to 225 to 250 hands and become of immense value to the prosperity of Galesburg. It is of value in giving employment to so many hands, on whom over one thousand are dependent for support, and also in sending out its unsurpassed manufactures, which give high credit to the fertile brain of their inventor and producer, as well as from the city from which they issue. There is invested in the buildings of this immense institution, which cover over half a large block, $150,000, in tools $50,000, in conducting the business $200,000—all of which gives a capacity for producing twenty thousand of these celebrated Corn Planters per annum. The brick shops, which are models in themselves, having everything to the minutest detail constructed with a view to solidity, convenience and the dispatch of business, are supplied with a class of machinery mostly new and principally made on the premises, which is not equaled in one similar establishment in ten, while through the mammoth and various departments are laid water pipes and hose ready for use at any moment by Brown's well-organized fire brigade, so that a conflagration is almost an impossibility. Here are consumed 2,500 tons of coal, 400 tons of castings, 250 tons of wrought iron and steel, 20 tons of paints and oils, and 500,000 feet of lumber per annum, having nearly 100,000 feet of floor area for the transaction of business. All this has been accomplished from a small beginning by a devotion to business that is commendable, and by being located in the right kind of a city from whence such articles are in large demand and can easily be shipped to all parts of the country. Geo. W. Brown is not only the inventor of the corn planter, but is the largest manufacturer in the world, and has shipped his wares to all parts of this country and to many foreign lands. The Brown Corn Planter is known over most of the civilized globe, and the original implement has kept pace with the demand of progress and improvement, until to-day, it is said by farmers, to be perfect for its purposes, notwithstanding this eulogy, the inventor is constantly puzzling his active and fertile brain, and has made many improvements in these machines for the corn season, and feels satisfied that if practical men thought they were perfect before, they must be doubly pleased with his present productions. Mr. Brown was born in Saratoga county, N. Y., and came to near Galesburg in July, 1836, consequently is one of the oldest settlers of this section. He, for years, had many disappointments and drawbacks, but after much patient labor and persistence, overcame all obstacles, and stands to-day an encouraging monument, in his success, to all beginners in valuable enterprises. During his many years of success, he has maintained his former urbanity, native goodness of heart and generosity, and has contributed to everything that in his judgement, tended to benefit the city of his adoption. He was elected Mayor of the city in 1876, previous to which he had contributed largely to the erection of the Hotel that justly bears his name, the M. E. Church and many other public and private enterprises of the city. No man in the city is held in higher esteem, and for the success he has accomplished, and the good he has done in his life-time, the present and future generations will continue to revere his name and call him blessed. In closing these few deserved remarks on the largest establishment of the kind in the world, and on one of our most honored and charitable citizens and manufacturers, we would say in justice to those engaged by him, that to an extent that the proprietor duly appreciates, has his success been due to the heads of his various departments. These are Isaac N. Perkins, the general business manager since 1864; Loren Stevens, book keeper and assistant accountant since 1866; Moses D. Heberd, superintendent mostly since 1858; Adam Dick, foreman since 1865; John Purdy, superintendent of foundry, whose experience covers a period at the business of forty years; Augustus O. Peterson, foreman of machine department; Frank A. Olsen, foreman blacksmith; and Augustus Abrahamson, foreman painter. With these and an efficient corps of workmen in each department, the works are ably and systematically managed, and are in a prosperous and gratifying condition.

COOK & BEACH, City Undertakers, Painters, &c.

Those persons who set themselves up as city undertakers to attend the last solemn ceremonies to deceased humanity, should be individuals thoroughly trustworthy and well qualified for the sad duties devolving upon them. There are, comparatively speaking, but few cities the size of Galesburg which are as fortunate in this direction as this city, and this leads us to say that Galesburg has in the above named gentlemen competent and painstaking undertakers, from whose success thus far we come to the conclusion are the right men in the right place and at the right business. They have been established since 1878 in this business, and since then have been selected to inter most of the departed of this vicinity, and have proven themselves competent and attentive when called upon to attend this unpleasant yet very necessary business. They had for some time previous to embarking in this business, been urged to do so by numerous friends, and never before in the history of the city was a first-class undertaking establishment more imperatively called for. In consequence they each studied the various details of the calling, and posted themselves in regard to the same, and at last purchased an entirely new outfit which embraced everything of the latest styles and inventions, and announced their readiness for business. It was not long after this announcement before their services were eagerly sought, and will no doubt continue to be, as their duties of undertaking have been so faithfully carried out, and at prices never before known, we believe, in this vicinity. Like all business men, they desire to make a fair profit on their investment and labor, and have secured a remarkable and flattering patronage in consequence of the advantages they offer and the fairness of their charges. Their fine new hearse for adults, and the one they intend ordering ere long for youth, of white, together with an excellent and diversified assortment of coffins, caskets and burial cases to suit all conditions and desires, makes them as prepared for the undertaking business as the older and most prominent ones of the largest cities. Galesburg and her citizens are showing their appreciation of the enterprise and adaptability of Messrs. Cook & Beach, in extending a very gratifying patronage in the undertaking line. They not only do this, but extend a large trade in their other department in the purchase of paints, oils, glass, pictures, frames, mouldings, wall paper of elegant designs and immense supply, and artists' materials generally. In addition they do a leading business in painting in all its branches, and as a specimen of their skill the High School building should be viewed. This business has been established since 1863, and we have no hesitation in saying is one of the leading houses in the city whose proprietors rank among our liberal business men.

GEO. A. MURDOCH'S Dry Goods "Headquarters."

Out of the great number of houses in the same line of trade there are a few which must necessarily give the best inducements to be obtained in their line. Among those houses of prominence in Galesburg which deserve special mention in the editorial and historical part of this representative work, we take pleasure in mentioning that of the above named gentleman, as its success has been far above the average. There are many reasons for the prominence it has attained, and these should act beneficially on those who are aiming at the same point of success, but who yet are far from its attainment. The chief reasons are the proprietor's thorough knowledge of the business in which he is engaged, his close application to the same, his unimpeachable integrity, and his liberality in apprising the public through the use of printers ink of his inducements. These are the various characteristics of Geo. A. Murdoch, and we verily believe if carried out faithfully by all persons, would, in the end, result in an abundant success. They have, however, in his case, for a knowledge of the business has enabled him to buy at the right time and in the right market. His attention to business has secured all the trade that offered without any one going from his store disappointed. His integrity has made people say that "what the proprietor says you may rely on in regard to quality," and lastly, by his persistently keeping his name, business and location before the eyes of the public he has caused everybody in this vicinity to know and desire to go to Geo. A. Murdoch's "headquarters" for dry goods at No. 10 Main street, Metropolitan block. Here he has one of the most tastily arranged stores in the city, where is kept an endless variety of everything classed as dry goods, making a special feature however of fancy goods; fine shawls, cloaks, mantels, silks and dress goods. The proprietor is a native of Elgin, Scotland, in which city he was engaged in the dry good business. In 1855 he moved to London and spent two years in that vast metropolis, and in 1857 came to the United States. In 1858 he located in Galesburg, having been in this business ever since and ranks to-day as the oldest dry goods merchant of the city, with friends and customers who are numbered by thousands. He has always been energetic in business, prompt to assist forward the interests of his adopted city, and to that end has contributed his time and money very liberally. He, along with Alex. Innes, built the Caledonian block, occupying it for a number of years, and is now the efficient member of the Board of Education from the Third ward. To sum up, we would say that with nearly thirty years' dry goods experience, strict attention to business and keeping his own books, buying direct from manufacturers and importers for cash, thus discounting all bills, he can easily bear out his well-known motto: "excellence in quality, one price to all, integrity in business, and quick sales and small profits."

DR. D. GREENLEAF, Wholesale and Retail Druggist.

There is probably no business that requires more care in the purchase and selection of goods than that of drugs and medicines, and for this reason persons should select their druggist with the same scrupulous care as they do their family physician, for it is in the purity of the medicines and the proper compounding of the same that the safety of patients depend, and here it is proper to say that we never met a more cautious and careful druggist than the genial Dr. Greenleaf, and all his numerous customers will admit that whatever is secured at his elegant and popular store is found just as represented, and that if a child is sent for an article it receives the same treatment as would an older and discreet person. This is a valuable trait in any business man, and is sure in time to be rewarded by a large trade as has been demonstrated in the case of the subject of this notice. The Doctor began here in 1862 in a rather unpretending way, and gradually from that date to the present time he has increased his facilities and business, and to-day notwithstanding the fact that this city has a surplus of drug stores, yet his trade has increased from year to year both in the wholesale and retail department. His store is located at 43 E. Main street, and presents quite a Metropolitan appearance, and is so tastily arranged that it is a pleasure for purchasers to behold, all of which adds to the attractiveness of the fine quality and varieties of articles to be found in its various departments. All goods are purchased of first hands and in large quantities, thus enabling the proprietor to successfully compete, not only in quality on which he has ever prided himself, but on the lowness of his prices. His prescription department as usual, is attentively presided over by himself with John Temple, a veteran pharmacist as his able assistant, and whose Swede speaking qualities attract large numbers of customers from that nationality. The proprietor, David Greenleaf is as popular socially and as a citizen as a druggist, and sustains a reputation for generosity enterprise and geniality of a high order in this community. He is a native of Hartford, Conn., coming to Peoria in 1852 where he practiced as a dentist, and in 1857 came to Knox Co., from where in the following year he moved to Memphis, Tenn. He left the last named city in 1861 a firm Union man, coming to this city in 1862, in which year he opened his present drug store, which along with his residence is a model of neatness and creditable alike to himself and the city.

LAKE W. SANBORN'S Insurance, Land and R. R. Ticket Agency.

Every well regulated and prominent city has its insurance representatives, and no men are more necessary in any line of business. To properly conduct a first-class agency requires constant watchfulness, hard work and a thorough devotion to the details of the business. In order to accomplish this, the agents must be reputable and reliable gentlemen, and devote their whole time and energies to the conduct of its affairs. They must do this in order to be able at a moment's notice to give all required information, and be able at any time to make surveys and attend to adjustments in case of losses overtaking the insured. And as it is necessary for all property owners and tradesmen to insure, so is it necessary that they should insure with responsible agents and in sound companies. After saying this much we are led to state for the information of the public and for the purpose of keeping up its record in this representative work of Galesburg, that the agency of the above named gentleman is the oldest in the city, and one of the largest and most reputable in the country, having been established since 1854. Since the latter date it has ever held to its commendable motto, "All business transacted on principles of commercial honor." The agency was established in 1854 by Hon. David Sanborn, father of the present owner who was the first city assessor and treasurer of the "Central Military Tract Ry." which was afterwards merged into the C. B. & Q. R. R. and who has been president of the Second National bank since its organization in 1864 to the present time. He came here in 1851 and consequently ranks among our oldest settlers, and we can truly say that no man in the city has ever earned or merited a better record than himself. In addition, he has been treasurer for the past fifteen years of the Lombard University and has done much toward bringing that institution to its present proud prominence, his kind heart ever having been in the good work of liberal education. We are wandering from our text however, and will return by saying that Lake W. Sanborn came here with his father in 1851, and although a young man is an old settler. From 1854 to about the year 1866, the agency was conducted by the father at which time the son began to take an active interest in its affairs, and since the spring of 1878 has had entire charge. He represents some fifteen different companies including home and foreign, the majority of which have been "tested and not found wanting." Among these are the old Hartford, Home, Phoenix, Aetna, Liverpool and London and Globe, German American, and Firemans Fund. In addition he is district agent for the Kansas lands on the central branch of the Union Pacific R. R. among which are the best and most fertile lands in the country, and all for sale cheap and on long time if desired. He is also ticket agent in this city for the Great Wabash Ry., issuing tickets to all parts in the East and while tickets are no higher by this route than others, yet a saving of nine hours in time is effected. Thus it will be seen that in insurance, farming or stock raising lands and railroad tickets, this agency holds a valuable position and offers the public unsurpassed terms in each department. Notwithstanding these advantages, and the fact that Mr. Sanborn does a large business on the smallest possible margin, yet he is one of Galesburg's most unselfish business men and no man in the city takes a deeper interest in its welfare than he, and none contribute more liberally according to their means. He is vice president of the Covenant Mutual Benefit Association of Galesburg, one of the energetic workers in the Masonic and Odd Fellows orders having friends as numerous as the inhabitants of the city.

REED, BABCOCK & STILSON, Hardware Merchants.

This house deserves more than a passing notice, both for its extent and the exalted position it occupies, and for its immensity and integrity in business transactions. It has been established since the year 1855, and is the oldest house of its kind in the city. Ever since its commencement it has exhibited distinguished energy and enterprise, and from time to time has increased its trade until now it extends over a large territory of this vicinity, both wholesale and retail. Each member of the firm stands among that liberal class of business men who believe in the various enterprises of the city being pushed forward, and to this end always contribute liberally to everything that tends to advance the interests of Galesburg, wherein they have done business and resided so many years. Their store is located at 11 and 13 E. Main street, the whole building being occupied by their immense stock, besides having large warerooms for the storage of the heavier class of goods. Each department of their elegant store is loaded with an admirable stock of goods, consisting of the various articles belonging to the trade. These are purchased direct from first hands, thus enabling them to successfully compete with houses further east who send their salesmen to this locality. General shelf and heavy hardware, carriage and wagon stock, iron, nails, stoves and tinware are their principal and leading goods, besides innumerable other articles in which they do an immense business, footing a large sum per annum. Their home and outside trade is certainly very creditable when we take into consideration the fact that competition is so strong, while it is acknowledged by friend and foe that Reed, Babcock & Stilson's facilities are such as to give them a leading position in the market. The proprietors have attained a prominent business position and socially are blessed with a large number of friends and a high place in the estimation of the public. The firm originally and in 1855 was started by Albert Reed, whose partner was Bickford Abbott. This continued till 1859, at which time Josiah Babcock and Capt. J. F. Stilson became partners, the firm name becoming Reed, Babcock & Co. For the following eleven years the firm remained unchanged, when in 1870 the business was assumed by Messrs. Calkins & Wilkins, who continued it until 1876, when the old and present firm took possession again. Mr. Reed first came to Galesburg in 1855, and has during that time very ably and acceptably filled the office of mayor of the city, and alderman for two terms from the Second ward, while Mr. Babcock, who came in 1851, has been engaged in this business and the manufacture of agricultural implements, and has been a director of the Second National Bank from its incorporation. Capt. Stilson, while never having held office, has been one of the pushing and enterprising manufacturers of the city, the three having been engaged in business together for over twenty years.

G. D. COLTON & CO., Proprietors Novelty Machine Works.

All manufacturing establishments, every one will admit, are of advantage to the city where located, and if conducted by honorable and conscientious gentlemen give valuable tone and character to any community. The above firm is one of the class above alluded to in an eminent degree, and is composed of two gentlemen whose names command high esteem, and whose advent to this locality dates back many years. The firm consists of Gad D. and Hon. Chauncey S. Colton (brothers), who came here in 1837 and 1836 respectively, each having taken an active and deep interest in Galesburg and its prosperity during the past forty-two years. Ever since their advent they have been among the foremost to build up from its infancy what is now widely known as the "College City," and to them and a few other of the earlier pioneers, much of the present status of Galesburg is due. The business of G. D. Colton & Co., is the outgrowth of what was established by the last-named gentleman, almost from his coming here. When he first came his trade was that of a house-builder and cabinet maker, and he immediately began work at the same and erected a majority of the older houses of the place. Among these are most of the original buildings of Knox College and the original Academy, formerly located on the site of the Union Hotel. He erected the first store in the city, which is that owned and conducted for over thirty years by his brother and partner C. S. Colton, and now occupied by Boyd & Rearick. He also built most of the First Church on the south side of the square, and about the last work he did in this line was finishing the inside of the "Brick Church," which was about the year 1860. Up to this time and from 1853, he owned and operated a planing mill, the first in the city, in connection with which he had a bedstead manufactory, but soon after the railroad entered the city, it ceased to be a paying investment and was discontinued. After giving up the building trade in 1861, he continued his planing mill, and in 1864, added a hay press 100 feet long, the whole establishment being consumed by fire in November of the same year, causing a loss of $10,000 with no insurance. Immediately after the fire he began to rebuild, and on the first of March, 1865, was in running order again, and has continued ever since in the same building. Since this time however, he has added to the size and capacity of the institution, and to-day the Messrs. Colton are owners and conductors of machine shops and foundry of large dimensions. During the past fourteen years they have gained in experience and reputation for superior manufactures, until to-day, employment is given to from thirty to sixty hands. From a small beginning this important establishment has grown until now they turn out all kinds of machinery and castings, which have a high reputation. The affairs are principally managed by Mr. G. D. Colton, under whose watchful care the works are in prosperous condition, and probably to his strict integrity and energy, more than the extraordinary facilities possessed, may the success of the concern be attributed. For a few of the articles they manufacture, we refer our readers to page 2 in this Directory.

C. H. BOGUE & CO., Lumber Manufacturers and Merchants.

Before the general public shall fully comprehend the advantages offered by any firm, they must be informed of those advantages, and in a brief way we will inform the people of this community of the facilities of the above firm. C. H. Bogue & Co., are successors to the old established and reputable business of Geo. A. Tryon which has been in existence since the year 1855. They succeeded to it in April 1878, and since then have done a good trade and proven to their customers that none of the prominence of the business has been allowed to wane by the change. This however is easily accounted for when we state that the present members are old lumber manufacturers and merchants and well tried business men. The firm consists of C. H. Bogue, an old merchant of many years reputable standing of Kewanee, and Sawyer, Goodman & Co., of Chicago, one of the heaviest and most responsible firms in the West. This firm manufactures its own lumber, having large and well equipped mills at Oshkosh, Wis., and being on the market all the time, and well versed and experienced in the most trivial detail of the lumber business, can and do offer every inducement that a legitimate business will justify. In this city they are located at the old stand corner of South and Seminary streets adjoining the C. B. & Q. track from which a side track of their own runs along-side their lumber yard. This saves much in unnecessary hauling which together with their other advantages gives them facilities for selling all kinds of lumber at prices and in quantities which cannot be discounted in the legitimate trade. They propose to do business on an honorable basis, and desire only that success which shall result from the advantages they can easily give over those with but small yards and meagre facilities. Their yard is very nicely and systematically arranged and supplied with an excellent assortment of every kind of building material, each and every length, breadth and quality of which is guaranteed to be sold at the lowest possible prices. The business at this point is ably managed by Mr. Willis E. Terry, a young and affable gentleman, who during his residence here has gained many friends and is securing for the firm he represents numerous new customers.

ALFRED E. DORE, The "Cash" Grocer.

There are many business men in Galesburg who deserve more than a passing notice both for the energy and enterprise they have displayed, but more especially for the advantages they have given the purchasing public. Ever since the establishing of the above-named gentleman, some three years ago, he has taken a leading position in his line, and to-day takes rank among the comparative few large and well conducted grocery houses of this vicinity. There are many reasons for success, but few there are who appear to find out reasons sufficient to insure success, and yet that is what all are hoping for. In the first place, it is as necessary that a person engaging in business should apply himself to the same, as it is that he should advertise to inform the public of his advantages, or purchase goods in the best markets and on the best terms. And in writing a few lines on the above-named gentleman we have with pleasure to state, to be candid, that Alfred E. Dore, the "Cash Grocer," is one of the most hard-working and attentive business men in the city, always studying every trivial detail that would in any way conduce to the advantage of the public, and tend to give him a leading position among the merchants of the city. To-day he can rejoice in being and being acknowledged one of the leading grocers of this vicinity, with a trade footing last year between seventy and eighty thousand dollars. This has been built up from a small beginning, and has been secured by simple merit in himself and his goods. We feel satisfied that when he adopted the cash principle he acted wisely, as by thus dealing he can turn his money to the best advantage and give customers what they have long sought, the best and freshest goods at a little less than most houses can afford to who give long credit. He has an elaborate and well-stocked store, at 18 Main street, which from its busy appearance one would naturally suppose all the country people as well as citizens did their trading at Dore's. He has several specialties which include fresh roasted and ground coffee, excellent teas and spices, and his own manufactured flavoring extracts, liquid bluing and Dore's Crown Baking Powder, warranted absolutely pure. He is among the first in the market with foreign fruit direct from importers, and with domestic fruits direct from growers. With the push and energy of Alfred E. Dore, his standing at home and abroad, and business connections he is enabled to give superior advantages to many, and equal to any other house in the trade, which accounts to some extent for the enormous business he commands.

FROST MANUFACTURING CO., AND AVERY BROTHERS.

To omit to mention the above establishment would be an omission of great magnitude, and one that would be unfair in this department of our work, for it has been one of the very leading institutions of the city so many years, and contributed so largely to the growth and material interests of Galesburg. J. P. Frost, in honor of whom it was named, came to Knox county in the year 1837, and so far as we have any knowledge, was the first practical machinist of this locality as he certainly is the oldest. In 1853 he started business on his own account, and in 1855 took into partnership several gentlemen, the firm named becoming J. P. Frost & Co. From the latter date to 1868 it continued as such, and in that year was incorporated under the State laws, and has since been known as the Frost Manufacturing Company. After a business career of twenty-five years it has grown into and holds an important and prominent position among similar institutions of the West. The whole establishment which in its various departments covers a block, is well supplied with machinery and patterns of every conceivable size and kind which are the accumulations of years of experience. Here the iron is melted and moulded into forms of beauty and use, and here splendid and costly machines and skilled machinists turn out and build up and put in motion the finest kind of engines, rotary and gang saw mills, castings of all sorts, boilers, sugar and flouring mills, horse powers, pumps any shape of iron or brass any one may want, and those who place their orders with this company may rest assured they will be promptly filled in the most careful and skillful manner. No matter how intricate the machinery needed, they can suit all comers and fill most acceptably all demands upon them, as from the start the Frost Manufacturing Co., seemed resolved that not one order should leave their shops until closely tested and inspected, so that no defective work could be traced back to them. The officers of the company are J. P. Frost, President, T. N. Ayres, Secretary, R. H. Avery, treasurer and C. M. Avery traveling agent, the latter two being residents of Galesburg since 1840 and 1846 respectively.

The AVERY BROTHERS (R. H. & C. M.) beside owning an interest in this concern, also manufacture the corn stalk cutter bearing their name, and which during the past seven or eight years has grown into such favor that their facilities are taxed to the utmost to keep pace with orders. A cut of the "Cutter" may be seen on another page of this work. They are also manufacturers of the Avery Corn Planter which they claim can be proven to be the best implement of the kind in use, a cut of which may also be found in this Directory.

COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Capt. F. D. Lips, Proprietor.

A wise man said many years ago that "the Hotels were a true indication of the prosperity of a city," and this we believe is as true to-day as when first uttered. During the past nine or ten years we have issued the Galesburg Directory, and have watched the progress made in the Hotel accommodation of the city, and can truly say that never in the city's history have they been as numerous and as well conducted and reputable as they are to-day. Among those who have gained a leading position and become popular with the traveling public is the above, which, since coming into the present proprietor's hands, has been very liberally patronized. It came into the hands of Capt. F. D. Lipe in April, 1878, who, at that time, entirely refurbished it, while the owner repaired, painted and otherwise improved it, making it one of the leading Hotels of the city. Everything about the house is new and kept as clean and tasty as possible, and when we say that it is managed by that old landlord and proprietor, Capt. Lipe, in person, it will prove its being conducted on liberal principles. There are about fifty rooms in the house all furnished in good style, each bedroom being supplied with spring bed, wool mattress, French plate mirror and stone China ware. The parlors, dining and reading rooms, and everything about the Hotel are cheerful and pleasant, and very inviting to travelers and boarders, for the low prices charged which are only $1.50 per day. Capt. Lipe is a very popular and well known gentleman. He came to Macomb from East Tennessee in 1840, and remained there until 1868, during which time he was engaged in farming, selling dry goods and groceries, and in 1854 was elected sheriff of McDonough county for two years, at which time he was also the tax collector of the county. In 1858 he was again elected to the shrievalty for two years, and from 1860 to 1868 was engaged in the stock and livery business. In the latter year he moved to Monmouth, Warren Co., and leased the Bay State House, taking with him his livery stock, and there remained three years. Since 1871 he has been in the hotel, livery and stock business in various places, and came here to stay as above stated. From his commencement he has done a good business, gained many warm friends and been patronized by his old acquaintances as well as many new ones.

WESTERN HEALTH INSTITUTE, Dr. A. G. Humphrey, Prop.

The "Western Health Institution and Galesburg Hygienic Infirmary," which has now been established and in operation for so many years is one of the permanent institutions of the city, and one of the most reputable and successful in the West. It is equipped with all the modern appliances of the medical profession, and conducted and owned by the physician in charge, whose experience has given him valuable advantages and a wide spread reputation. Hundreds of patients have availed themselves of the benefits of this institution and the proprietor's vast experience, and many who had before given up all hope of recovery, but tried this as a last and forlorn hope, came out relieved and in many cases cured, when they had been led to believe that recovery was impossible. The institution is located in a healthy city and in a very healthy part thereof, and to this some of the good effects produced may be attributed, but more, of course, to the skillful treatment of the Doctor and his untiring, and tender care of patients under his charge. Dr. A. G. Humphrey graduated at the "New York Hygieo-Therapeutic College," April 15, 1858, after which he came west and located in Moline, Ill. He remained there two years, coming to Galesburg in 1860, where he has remained ever since. To-day he has a good patronage, he being the physician in charge, Mrs. Dr. Humphrey taking charge of the ladies' department. While valuable benefits are experienced by invalids under the care of Dr. Humphrey, yet the charges are less than at any similar institution of which we have knowledge. The Doctor besides attending to and conducting this establishment has quite a large local practice, and has a reputation as a successful physician for which many in this city would gladly give him the highest testimonial.

FAHNESTOCK & FULLER, Booksellers and Stationers.

Established fourteen years ago, this business has become one of the leading ones of the West, and holds a reputation for honorable and conscientious business dealings of a very high order. Gradually from its commencement it has added to the extent of its trade and now commands customers among all classes of citizens within many miles of the city, including dealers and large consumers. To-day it is truly a representative business house of this thriving city, and offers inducements in the great variety of articles in which it deals seldom to be obtained. Buying directly from first hands the same as dealers in large cities for cash, the proprietors are thus enabled to command a large trade and give equal inducements to any house in the West. The facilities this mammoth house possesses obviates the necessity of persons in this vicinity going away from home for anything in its line. Its scope of goods dealt in is very wide and embraces innumerable articles which are carried by first-class houses only. Every kind of book, all kinds of stationery, novelties, games, daily and weekly newspapers, periodicals, toys, fancy goods, pictures and frames, fine cutlery, baby carriages and blank books are among its stock, in addition to which are articles too numerous to mention. All departments are complete and stand par excellence for their several specialties. The business is owned and conducted by John C.

Fahnestock and Francis W. Fuller, two of our most popular and wide-awake citizens, whose social and business standing ranks very high. The two work together with commensurate energy and tact, each being determined that all the inducements a legitimate business will justify, shall be given at their store. In conclusion, we would say that having one of the largest stocks to be found in any city the size of this, including the choicest of fine goods all bought at the lowest cash prices from manufacturers, importers and jobbers, it will easily be seen why Fahnestock & Fuller can and do sell their goods at so low a price.

COMSTOCK BROTHERS, Insurance Agency.

From a small beginning, the agency of the above-named gentlemen has grown into one of the largest in this vicinity, and what is of more importance than its size, is that it is one of the most reputable in the insurance business. O. O. & M. H. Comstock constitute the firm and are well and favorably known in this neighborhood, having lived in Warren, Henry and Knox counties all their lives, their father coming to Monmouth, Warren county, some thirty-six years ago from Pennsylvania. The Comstock agency was established in 1870, and so reputable has its transactions been since that time that it justly takes rank with the most honorable, while in number of companies represented, it vies with the largest in any city the size of Galesburg. They represent about a dozen different companies, among which are some of the oldest and most solid in the country. The Agricultural, of Watertown, New York, is one of their favorites, and well may it be, for it has withstood more abuse from various sources for many years past than probably any other leading company, and stands to-day strong in its own resources and doing a gradually increasing business. It has one very fine feature, and that is it insures nothing but farm and dwelling property, which ensures its never suffering to that extent as to cripple its resources. The gentlemen connected with this company, are, we learn from reliable sources, and from those who have known them intimately many years, men of wealth and cautious character, and from this and the fact that the company has gradually grown from year to year, as is shown in the "pyramid" on page 5 of this Directory, it will prove all the claims the Messrs. Comstock, district agents, make for it. Some of the other companies represented here are the Imperial and Northern, of London, the former of which only had $600,000 of assets in this country at the time of the great Chicago fire, yet paid losses to the amount of three and a half millions, proving that foreign assets are available when honestly called for by policy holders. The Connecticut, of Hartford, capital $1,000,000; Manhattan, and Commercial, of New York, having done business from 1821 and 1850 respectively; the Northwestern National, and Mechanics, of Milwaukee, Wis., the first named having the largest cash capital we believe of any company in the West, while the latter which started as a mutual company in 1853, has a large surplus which is, and must be held, by the condition of its charter, for the protection of its policy holders. After writing thus briefly on one of the representative Insurance agencies of the city, and giving a few of the advantages and names of companies, we refer our readers to the Comstock Brothers, for a more detailed statement of their inducements to insurers.

HENRY BIEDERMANN, Proprietor Empire Meat Market.

Galesburg has quite a number of first-class meat markets, but among the very leading ones stands the "Empire Meat Market," owned and conducted by the genial and liberal Henry Biedermann. It is located at the south east corner of the Public Square, and presents the appearance in size, systematic arrangement and cleanliness of a first-class market in the largest cities. It is such an one as the proprietor and conductor may well feel proud of, and the citizens largely patronize. Its appearance, however, would not secure his immense trade were it not for the fact that he is known for killing a superior quality of meat. While he is a close and extensive buyer yet he always pays the highest market price for stock, and sometimes a trifle more than that price in order that he may secure a fine quality of meat for which he is well known for keeping. He prides himself on the quality of his meats which include all kinds kept by a leading butcher and does an immense trade. He transacts a large business among all classes of citizens, many of our leading families getting their supplies from him. To show the character of his meats it is only necessary to say that he furnishes the Union Hotel, and that probably is one of the highest compliments we could name as it is well known that Mr. Brownell would have nothing unless first-class. Mr. Biedermann came to this country a practical butcher from Bavaria, Germany, in 1854, at which time he located and opened a meat market in Joliet, Ill., and for ten years thereafter conducted the leading market of the kind in that city. In 1864 he moved to Chicago, opening a very fine establishment at 489 State street, and in 1866 came to Galesburg, forming a partnership with Ed. Maul, who conducted together this market until the sudden taking off of the latter gentleman. His market is well arranged and is equipped with ice and packing houses, all of which, including his residence, he owns as well as a farm near the city, on which he feeds most of the stock he kills. With thirty-four years experience, ample means, numerous intimate friends and a genial and liberal disposition there is no wonder that Henry Biedermann commands an extensive trade, and ranks among the leaders of his class.

C. BRECHWALD & SON, Wholesale Liquor Merchants.

In view of the facilities offered by the above firm, we beg leave to call the attention of respectable dealers and druggists to the very superior stock of fine wines and liquors, domestic and imported which this house has always on hand. It is one of the very oldest and most prominent houses of its kind in the country, and has always held an important position before the trade. Their domestic whiskies are unsurpassed in quality and lowness of price, while their stock of foreign goods is large, and offers a varied assortment from which to select. The firm consists of Charles Brechwald and his son Nicholas, the business having been established in 1859, by the first named gentleman who ranks among our most solid, prosperous and unassuming citizens. Recently he took into partnership his son who had taken an active part several years previously, and now the new life infused into it gives the firm a prominence and advantage to which there is no discount. They manage their business with great precision and punctuality, and from their long experience are familiar with the wants of the trade. Parties ordering goods of this house have its old established reputation as a guarantee that they will be honestly and fairly dealt with, and can rely upon getting just such quality as is represented to them by themselves or their agents. To the purchasing public, dealers and druggists, we take pleasure in saying that this is a first-class jobbing house, and when you buy their goods you are securing a fine quality and paying only first prices. In addition, they are sole agents for Joseph Schlitz & Co's fine Milwaukee lager beer which can be secured in small quantities, or by the car load. It is this beer that is retailed in their fine establishment in the Opera House block which is presided over by the genial and popular Henry Gardt. Charles Brechwald came to this country from Germany in 1853, and at once began to work for the C. B. & Q. R. R. in the fuel department as contractor. He continued thus until 1860, although the year previous he had opened what has now developed into the largest business of the kind in this vicinity. In 1870, he along with four others seeing the necessity of a public place of amusement commensurate with the importance of Galesburg, erected the beautiful Opera House which has done as much toward the prosperity of the city probably as any one enterprise. He owns two-sixths of this, and occupies two of the stores in his business, he being the treasurer of the building. During his many years of residence and business career here, he has been liberal and enterprising to a fault, and commands probably as many warm and true friends as any other man in the city, all of which may be said also of his son and partner.

J. R. GORDON, Merchant Clothier.

Every business house has its points of excellence and peculiar advantages, while there are a few having all the inducements, long experience, financial ability and a thorough knowledge of the business will admit of. Of the latter character is the house of J. R. Gordon, which is the oldest of its kind in Galesburg. It is something to be duly proud of to establish a business in a city and continue it through the various crises of a quarter of a century, and it stand at the end of that time as a leading and representative establishment with an unsullied business reputation. Ever since 1854, the above named gentleman has been in the clothing trade in this city, and as we have said, is the pioneer clothier. During the past twenty-five years he has commanded a large trade in fine ready-made clothing, hats, caps and furnishing goods, sometimes transacting a business footing $60,000 per annum. He has done this, by offering a carefully selected stock of goods which, bought for cash at the proper time and place, has enabled him to sell at a small profit. He does not believe in asking $50 for a coat or suit and ultimately taking ten, but believes in asking a fair price which will produce a fair profit, to which all business men are justly entitled. His merchant tailoring department is also very complete, the cloths on hand being attractive in style and quality, while his cutter with thirty five years experience, is said to be a stranger to a misfit. Taken all in all, the clothing establishment of J. R. Gordon offers valuable inducements to purchasers and commands a leading position among its class. The proprietor is a native of Muskingum Co., Ohio, from whence he came here, as we have said, in 1854, and during the past quarter of a century has done a full quota towards building up the interests of the city, ever being liberal in his contributions, and has acceptably held a position in the city council from the first ward.

WESTERN PATENT OFFICE AGENCY, Prof. W. B. Richards.

Galesburg has a number of the most prominent institutions of their kind in the country, which are known over a good portion of the United States as well as in many foreign countries. One of this class is the above agency which we take as much pleasure in noticing as do the citizens in speaking of. To begin we would say that in the fall of 1867, W. B. Richards, Esq., located in this city and opened the above extensively known patent agency. At that date he was known to some of the more prominent manufacturers, inventors and patentees as a gentleman of marked ability in the profession, and by faithful attention to business and most extraordinary success in difficult and intricate cases, he has extended that business acquaintance until he is now well known to all leading manufacturers and patentees in this and many foreign countries, as an expert in patent matters of the highest order. A mere synopsis of the more extensive and important patent cases that he has been connected with as attorney or expert would fill volumes. Go into what city we will and we find his name well known among manufacturers, and a confidence existing in his ability and integrity which must lead to a magnificent business and to a princely fortune. With his vast fund of knowledge, his excellent library, and thoroughly systematic methods he is able to prepare an astonishing number of specifications, arguments, scientific calculations, &c., &c., which would appear to require much more time than one man could possibly give, from the elaborate and careful manner in which they are prepared. His books show probably, the largest business of any house of the kind in the United States, and when we reflect that such a business has been established in a Western city of less than 20,000 inhabitants, we must conclude that a lively and accomplished gentleman was at the head of it and that Galesburg is a prominent and central city. We take pleasure in thus speaking of Prof. W. B. Richards and also of the enterprising city in which his immense business is located.

JOSEPH DALTON, First-class Carriage Builder.

Among the institutions of Galesburg, of which we desire to speak, is that of the above-named gentleman, who has now conducted it for the past two years. This is the old-established Galesburg carriage manufactory, which was established in 1865, and which for years held a leading place amongst the manufacturing institutions of the city for fine and unequalled work produced. It is now owned and conducted by the above-named gentleman, whose experience covers a period of thirty-five years at the business, mostly from 1866 in this city, and previously in Cincinnati, where he served an apprenticeship from the year 1842. There is a vast amount of competition in the carriage business at the present time, and this to some extent has demoralized the legitimate trade. The competition usually comes in the form of cheap Eastern-made work which to all appearance looks equal to the best produced by first-class shops. The quality of this work is only found out by experience, and this experience usually proves the dearth of the majority of such work, bought at what appeared at first low prices. In view of this fact it is the safest course to adopt to patronize good workmen and home institutions where work is guaranteed, and where any possible mistake can easily be remedied. Besides, every vehicle turned out of a home establishment is some advantage to each citizen, especially to the property owners and tradesmen, because the money thus paid is kept in the city and distributed among home dealers. Many beautiful designs of carriages and buggies issue from this establishment, and Mr. Dalton in both new work and repairs is determined that no customer shall go away dissatisfied either at its quality or price.

HEIZER & HOWORTH, City Flour Mills.

We take especial pleasure in writing a few lines on the above gentlemen and their "city mills," as we believe we are correct in saying that they are the only mills of the kind that have ever been conducted to a successful position in this city. This of course comes from various reasons, not the least of which is to be attributed to the fine quality of their products. The mills were started by Heizer & Brulin in 1872, and since then large success has been attained. The present firm has been in existence some two years, and during this time as previously, improvements have been constantly added costing during last year about one thousand dollars. This goes to prove the proprietors determination to have the best of everything which is so necessary in producing superior brands of flour and feed. The motto of Mr. Heizer in this as in everything else is "Excelsior," and the same spirit is manifest in Mr. Howorth. The mills are supplied with three run of stone, and a class of machinery of superior construction which enables them to turn out brands of spring and winter wheat, buckwheat, rye, and graham flour, bolted corn meal and feed which has a very fine reputation in this city and vicinity. Not alone to the fine quality of this mill's products is their success due, but since J. C.

Heizer's coming here he has exhibited an amount of true enterprise and liberality which has secured him a warm place in this community and a large patronage. He came here from Kossuth, Iowa in 1872, where from 1842 he had been engaged in milling and farming and did a vast business during his thirty years of residence there. Mr. J. M. Howorth has resided in Galesburg since 1855 and for several years previous to engaging in this business was a member of the hardware firm of Van Schaack & Howorth.

BELDEN & SEACORD, Proprietors Depot Hotel.

The very mention of the name of Belden in connection with a hotel, especially if prefixed with "Hi," is a guarantee that no mean house is kept, but that everything about the place is all that could be desired. H. W. Belden, who first came to Galesburg in 1855, is not only an old settler but the oldest hotel keeper of the city, and one of the best known and most popular gentlemen that ever opened a public house. From 1855 to 1862 he was engaged in the stock and grain business, and since the latter date in the hotel business in this city. All this time he has kept the Depot Hotel, Eating House and Lunch Counter, and in 1870 the Galesburg Hotel Co. would have none other than he to open the Union Hotel, and afterwards, in 1871, when it was rebuilt, after the fire. During the past 17 years he has made the Depot Hotel, where so many thousands have been fed, one of the most popular stopping places on the C. B. & Q. R. R., and to-day he maintains the same prestige. His tables are always abundantly supplied with the best viands, while everything about the house is order, system and comfort. Last June he associated with him Mr. Fred Seacord, son of Wilkins Seacord, and one of the best known and most popular of our young business men, who, along with the veteran hotel proprietor H. W. Belden, conducts the Depot Hotel with its old time liberality.

WILLSIE & HAWKINSON, First-class Livery.

It would be very difficult to find a more genial and popular resident than Col. H. H. Willsie, the principal conductor of the above-named business, or a more pushing and successful business man than his partner, Olof Hawkinson. They are now proprietors of the old-established and popular livery stable, located Main, corner Kellogg street, opposite the Commercial Hotel, which ranks among the largest and best kept of its class. Everything about the place is kept in a cleanly state, while the eighteen or twenty head of stock and a similar number of vehicles are fine, comparing very favorably with those kept in our largest cities where charges for livery are much higher. While they aim at keeping a first-class livery stable in all its appointments, yet the business being done on a cash basis, their charges are very moderate, and to this fact may be attributed a large measure of their success and popularity. Col. Willsie came to this city from his native place, Hemmingford, Canada, in 1854. During his twenty-five years residence here he has been one of the most active workers in the city, and although having been in public life most of the time, has maintained the respect of every body to a remarkable degree. For sixteen years he held the office of deputy sheriff and constable, four years of which he was city marshal. In 1862 he raised company "D" of the 102nd Illinois volunteers for the army, going out as its Captain, resigning the following year, from ill health. In the spring of 1864 he recruited company "D" of the 139th Illinois volunteers, going in the front where he did good service as Lieutenant Colonel. In February, 1865, shortly after his return home, he, for the third time went into the field of action as Colonel of the 148th Illinois regiment. Olof Hawkinson came to this city in 1856, since when he has been engaged as farmer, and lately as broom corn merchant. He owns two fine farms adjoining or near to the city, and is along with Col. Willsie well fixed in this world's goods, and withal very popular.

VAN SCHAACK & HOLMES, Hardware Merchants.

There are many prominent and deservedly successful firms in Galesburg, and among this list is that of the above named gentlemen. The business was established by the first named gentleman in the year 1860, who at that time had had considerable experience. Ever since that date he has been connected with the house, although several partners have been taken into the firm, and for the past few years S. R. Holmes has been identified with the business, he being an old hardware merchant. They carry a very fine line of everything pertaining to the hardware and house furnishing business, including an immense stock of carriage and wagon material and claim to offer not better inducements than anybody, but equal to any others in the trade. This claim appears to be easily established, first by their thoroughly understanding the business, and secondly by their buying for cash. It does not need this explanation to prove the advantages of this house, for the most valuable recommendation is found by interviewing their numerous customers who declare that they can do better at Van Schaack & Holmes than at many wholesale houses in Chicago. They are located at 37 Main street, where they occupy three large floors beside a warehouse 50 feet deep in which is constantly kept an unusually diversified stock of the numerous articles denominated under the comprehensive heading of hardware. Van Schaack & Holmes are also agents for the well-known standard scales made by Fairbanks, Morse & Co., and in these they have made such arrangements as to be able to supply them at very low figures. These gentlemen are old hardware dealers and understand the business to an unusual degree, and are determined to continue to do a fair share of the business in their line in this vicinity if good goods, correct representations and low prices will accomplish that result. S. R. Holmes was in the hardware business in Warsaw, Ills., from 1855 to coming here where he had resided since 1847. He was from 1870 to 1875 the adjuster also for the Springfield Fire and Marine Ins. Co., for the Northwestern states and is very widely known and popular.

BURGLAND & JOHNSON, First-Class Butchers.

The above firm ranks among the leading and most extensive butchers of this vicinity, and has an extensive trade among all classes of citizens. Nels M. Burgland and Swan Johnson constitute the firm, the former of whom has resided here eleven and the latter eight years. Each is a practical and thoroughly educated butcher, and everybody concedes that they take rank among the leading butchers of the West. They are not alone butchers because of their expertness, but also because they own and conduct a leading and first-class market. It is located corner of Main and Kellogg streets, and although rather unpretentious in appearance, yet a vast amount of business is done inside and among a good class of our citizens as well as the Commercial and Brown's Hotel. The firm owns a farm sixteen miles north of the city, containing 160 acres where they raise and fatten most of their stock, which gives them many advantages as business men. Mr. Burgland manages the market, Mr. Johnson the farm, the two working together in harmony, both aiming to do that which will enable the firm to give inducements to the public in choice meats for which they pride themselves. During the five years of their establishment they have gradually increased their business until now it foots in the neighborhood of thirty thousand dollars a year, which proves conclusively what may be accomplished by right actions.

HURLBURT & RICKETSON, Galesburg Steam Dye Works.

Every city the size and importance of Galesburg should have dye works for the convenience of its citizens, and in order that work in this line may be done at home and thereby build up all necessary institutions. This is not done, however, in all cities, but we are pleased to find Galesburg fortunate in this direction, being possessed of steam dye works of which every citizen should avail himself and be proud. We say every citizen, advisedly, for there are none of us but what at one time or another can effect a great saving by applying to the skilful dyer for help in changing some part of our clothing from one color to another, or cleaning the same. The Galesburg Steam Dye Works are now in a very complete condition, and great credit is due the persistent energy their founder F. R. Hurlburt has displayed in bringing them to their present perfection and prominence. He has labored for several years with a determination and will in the face of many obstacles and disappointments in order to successfully establish what he and his partner possess to-day, the best equipped works of the kind in any city the size of Galesburg we know of. This he has done when the public generally had but little hope of success, and when often discouraging advice has been gratuitously tendered. He gradually added, from time to time, to his means and facilities, ever having great faith in ultimate success, during which time taking great care that the reputation of the work he produced should be unsurpassable. To this end he repeatedly went to Chicago, among other cities, in search of competent workmen, and after making several experiments at considerable expense and annoyance found one of the most skilful dyers in this country whose services he at once secured and which he tenaciously retains. He cast about for a suitable partner also, and found the right person in Harry F. Ricketson, the two erecting and equipping with the best known machinery in the trade one of the finest and most convenient dye houses in the country, 20x40 feet in dimensions, on West street, their office being conveniently located adjoining the Republican-Register office. As many persons have employed incompetents to dye new or worn goods or clean the same they have become discouraged, but such persons need have no fear of placing any and all kinds of articles in the hands of Hurlburt & Ricketson. In addition to ordinary dying and cleaning they have a patent process of dry cleaning, whereby they guarantee to make goods look equal to new without wetting the material. Everything worn by man or woman kind, from the finest to the coarsest texture, can be handled by this firm either for dying or cleaning purposes in a superior manner to any of the unskilled pretenders who conduct similar businesses without in the least understanding the same. This is a firm whose reputation stands high, and in whose hands the various articles of wearing apparel or piece goods may be safely entrusted.

WINSOR'S PHOTOGRAPHIC ART PARLORS.

Compared with the whole number of persons engaged in taking pictures, there are but few who may truly be called artists. This comes of inability, lack of study, of energy and of facilities, or some other reason that appears to never be overcome by the majority of so-called artists. We are pleased to state however, for the benefit of our numerous readers, that Galesburg has an artist in the above-named gentleman, of whom she is and may well be proud, and whose enterprise and persistent vim and honor, as a man, is not always so completely combined in one individual. These qualifications have become appreciated by our citizens, and that is why C. A. Winsor, the photographer, has secured the leading position he occupies and well merits. At Winsor's, photography is exemplified in a manner that ever carries the conviction to a person's mind that the genius of art has been at work. Such pictures are not to be found every day, and as one looks over the immense display on the walls of his studio, there is an irresistible feeling takes possession of the beholder's mind, that it would be almost if not quite impossible to more perfectly delineate the contour of faces than is done here. This perfection can only be secured by careful study and a knowledge of art principles, and a proper balancing of the lines that create the grand proportions of the picture. By a faithful and persistent carrying out of the correct principles of photography, the proprietor has attained a very high standard for the excellence of his productions. Like everything else, this is accomplished by the simplest means at hand, that is, the most perfect photography with its short comings, is assisted by artistic re-touching and careful manipulation, so that each face is made a particular study and lighted so as to produce the best result for that particular face, and not as has been done heretofore by a mechanical rule, which makes all work as if by one pattern and leaves the picture a likeness or not, just as it happens. Good work and true likenesses are not made by cutting and trying, but by the proper application of those principles which insure a perfect likeness every time. It has long been the rule with patrons to go to their photographer and tell him just how they want their pictures made, and acting under such instructions it is a wonder that even as good work could be secured as has been. This is not the way at Winsor's, for almost before a person can express their wishes, their composition for a picture is made up, and if they can be induced to silence unless spoken to, they may expect much better results than they could ever obtain by putting too much confidence in their own ability, and persistently claiming for themselves charms they do not possess in person, or holding up a picture of some one that is naturally beautiful and say "why can't I have something like that." Not so much the flattering of people as the production of a pleasing likeness, and pleasing because of the most pleasing lines in the face and not the most haggard and displeasing, is why Winsor is ahead in the art of photography, and why the public appreciate his efforts more and more every day. If true artistic merit is what the public are seeking, then Winsor's art gallery, 27 East Main street, up stairs, is the place to secure it, and the place to be pleasantly waited on.

PARRY & STEVENS, Contractors and Builders.

We believe there is no city in this vicinity whose leading builders and contractors have done more work in a given time than the above-named gentlemen, and whose reputation stands higher for the quality of work and the faithful manner of completing contracts. The firm is composed of Samuel J. Parry and Ira R. Stevens, each having had an experience of twenty-five years at the business, and devoted the best part of their lives to become expert workmen at the same. They have labored in this city about fourteen years, and to-day stand at the head and are recognized as master builders with but few equals and no superiors. During their business career in Galesburg they have done some fine work, often employing a great number of workmen, as they take the contracts from the commencement to completion of buildings. Among the more notable structures of their erection, we can point with pride to the large extension which completed the Alms House at Knoxville, the third ward school house in this city, the whole of Metropolitan block except two stores, the residence of Mr. Ferris on Academy street, and also that of Wm. Herzog, besides just completing (along with Thos. E. Smith,) the Catholic school house. We must not forget the Knox county jail, as this is acknowledged one of the finest buildings of the kind in the West, and not only reflects the highest credit on Messrs. Parry & Stevens, its builders, but on the liberality of the county. We might go on ad lib. in pointing to the public and private buildings erected by this reliable and honorable firm, but these are sufficient to prove the character of their work, and satisfy those persons contemplating the erection of any kind of structure, that Parry & Stevens are the party to apply to.

DANIEL FARRELL, "Artistic" Merchant Tailor.

In every kind of business we find men of different qualifications, therefore we may safely conclude no stated number of men can possibly engage in the same business and secure equal success. While each of a given number may be honest and industrious, yet all will not attain the same proficiency, hence cannot all acquire the same standard of excellence. In view of this well known fact, it is with pleasure we state that among the prominent ones in the merchant tailoring business stands Daniel Farrell, who has proven to our citizens during the past twenty-one years that he is not excelled by any other in the trade, and not always equaled. This arises from his talent for this particular business, his close application and long experience. He has been at this business from boyhood and has attained great perfection as a cutter and merchant tailor, and during the time he has been in business on his own account, has discarded shoddy and dealt only in fine domestics and imported goods. He has proven by the great number for whom he has worked, that he is thoroughly competent at the business, and that no finer goods go out of any similar establishment, while prices are but a little higher than for inferior clothing. Daniel Farrell has secured a fine and growing trade and well earned the name of "Artistic tailor." One important secret of his success, lies in the fact that he attends to cutting personally, and being practical and having a peculiar system of measurement of his own invention, he is enabled to produce the finest fitting garments. He is a practical tailor and cutter, a genial and enterprising business man, and is determined to build up a still larger business on the merits of his productions. His store is located at 21 Main street, where call and leave your order and measure, pay your money and secure your clothing, which the proprietor will guarantee to be of the best.

HENRY W. WILLIAMS, Prop. Galesburg Nurseries.

Our editorial review of the valuable institutions of Galesburg would be incomplete were we not to make a passing notice on the old established "Galesburg Nurseries," owned and conducted by the above named gentleman. H. W. Williams is a son of the late Adnah Williams, whose advent to this locality dates back to the year 1837 and permanent settlement to 1842. In the year 1851 he established these nurseries which have been in successful existence ever since. Gradually from year to year increasing in the immensity and variety of its stock, until now they are among the best known and largest in the West. They are owned and conducted by the above named gentleman, whose extensive business not only with consumers, but with nurserymen over many states of the Union has given him a wide reputation. These are the largest nurseries in Knox Co., or vicinity, and contain eighty acres under high cultivation, all devoted to nursery stock, which consists of fruit, shade and ornamental trees, evergreens, arbor vitæ, Austrian, Scotch, and white pine, Norway spruce, balsam firs, Irish and Swedish junipers and many others in great variety. He has from fifty to one thousand apple trees in all stages of growth, from one to four years old. While all kinds of nursery-stock is cultivated, and six or eight salesmen are employed to dispose of the same, yet hundreds of orders come in through the mails from all parts of the country for his apple seedlings of which he makes a specialty. He makes large quantities of cider for the farmers of this vicinity specially for the seeds from the apples, and to show to some extent the immensity of his business in this line we will state that two years ago he planted twenty-four bushels of seed. He has at the present time over one million apple seedlings, beside a large stock of everything else pertaining to a first-class nursery. His long experience, his ample facilities, his cautious character and high reputation makes these nurseries valuable ones for dealers, nurserymen and consumers to trade at.

COWAN'S HOTEL, L. J. Calkins, Proprietor.

We have previously said that the Hotels of this city are of a better class than in most cities the size of this; which adds to Galesburg's attractiveness. Among the well conducted ones stands Cowan's Hotel, which in consequence of it being a comparatively new name for this popular house we will give its more recent history. On the 15th day of April, 1878, A. B. Cowan purchased this property, up to which time it had been known as the American House. Since the purchase it has been thoroughly overhauled, refitted, refurnished in the majority of the rooms as well as calcimined, papered and painted, inside and out, between one and two thousand dollars having been expended in improvements. During the dozen years the owner has resided here he has been engaged in the mill furnishing business, as agent for the Excelsior Works, of Silver Creek, N. Y., but as we have said, last April, embarked in this enterprise. Great credit is due him for so completely transforming this house into one of many attractions and putting it on a footing with the best houses of the city. The house is of brick, contains about fifty rooms, is conveniently located opposite the depot, and since being under the present management has been liberally patronized. It is now conducted by L. J. Calkins, in fine style, the charges having been reduced to one dollar and a half a day. Being so near the depot it is very convenient for travelers and the railroad fraternity whose patronage it largely enjoys. As we have said L. J. Calkins is proprietor, and all who know the genial C. B. & Q. engineer, Mr. Calkins, and Major McMullen, the general manager, will not be disappointed in expecting to find it well conducted, from the dining room to the office and sleeping apartments. Since the old trees were removed, the porch taken down and fine entrances made, together with fine sidewalks, the appearance of the house has greatly improved, and Cowan's Hotel ranks with the foremost in this vicinity.

S. H. OLSON, Family Grocer.

The above-named gentleman, who is one of our oldest citizens, has gained for himself by honorable conduct and industry, a name and business standing not attained by all men. To begin, we would say that he came to this city in 1854, and was farming up to 1861, when in August of that year he enlisted in the 102nd regiment Illinois volunteers, and after serving creditably in his country's service for three years, returned to the city. Shortly after returning he began to work for F. O. Crocker, beginning as deliverer of goods, when after seven years' experience he began business on his own account, and to-day ranks as one of the leading grocers of Galesburg. He began in January, 1871 to work for himself, and since that date has gradually and persistently built up a trade footing many thousands of dollars per annum. He is located at the corner of Chambers and Berrien streets, where he has a store 22x50 feet, two stories high, with an addition for feed 14x20 feet, all of which he owns. During the past eight years we believe no similar business enterprise has been more uniformly successful, and no merchant has achieved a higher standard as a business man of honor and integrity. When we say that his sales foot $35,000 a year, it will prove the above assertion to be true, and show that however small the beginning, great results may be expected by patience and right conduct. He keeps a very full stock of groceries, provisions, notions and feed, making a specialty of best brands of flour, butter and potatoes—three of the most necessary articles for the sustenance of life.

BOLLENBACH & DYKE, Liquor Merchants.

At No. 7 South Prairie street are located the above named gentlemen who in June 1878 opened what has since become one of the most popular establishments of the kind in the city. Their store is two stories in height, all of which is occupied by themselves in the wine, liquor and cigar business and as a billiard hall. In the first place when they opened, they determined to keep only the best of goods, and have rigidly adhered to that resolve which we are pleased to learn has resulted in an immense trade in each department. The front part of the first floor is devoted to cigars and liquors, and the rear to a very fine bar, while the upper floor is occupied as a first class billiard hall having three excellent tables. In each department they are well patronized which arises from the excellence of their stock, but probably not more from this cause than to the fact that each partner is very liberal and of a genial and entertaining disposition. The firm is composed of Peter Bollenbach and Louis Dyke, the former of whom came to this city from Germany in 1867 and worked at the wagon making business mostly up to beginning here, while the latter came from Sweden in 1872, and has been engaged at the Union Hotel and with Mr. Chas. Brechwald up to forming the above partnership. Each has many friends in this locality, and this together with their liberality and enterprise will, no doubt, secure them a large trade in the future as it has in the past.

JONAS F. ANDERSON, First-Class Restaurant.

There are but few cities the size of this that furnish their citizens with as fine and complete restaurants as does Galesburg. The pioneer restaurateur of this city is Jonas F. Anderson, who established his business in 1862. He first came to Knox Co. in 1855, previous to which time he had resided in his native country, Sweden. From this time to 1862 he was farming and at various other businesses, and in that year went into the army, as sutler. He was sutler to the 14th Ill. Cavalry from the fall of 1862 to the spring of 1864, when he returned home and opened a restaurant the same month. Ever since the latter date he has been at this business, except for a few months, and is now recognized among the leaders of his class. His parlors are at 40 Main street, where, as usual, everything is kept in excellent style and order, and in perfect accord with the proprietor's personal neatness and system. While he gets up meals at all hours for transients and citizens, manufactures candies and sells fruits of all kinds yet as a public caterer he ranks high and is invariably chosen to provide most of the parties, weddings, &c., with their gastronomical refreshments. He also keeps an excellent assortment of choice cigars, among which are those celebrated "Miller's Punch," in which he does a large retail and box trade. As a manufacturing confectioner, public caterer and restaurateur Jonas F. Anderson stands high, and as an old settler and highly regarded, enterprising and liberal citizen no man commands higher esteem.

CHARLES JOHNSON, Brick Manufacturer.

Among all classes of business men there are a few who deserve to be specially pointed out to the notice of the public in consequence of their valuable, business qualifications and for the advantages they offer purchasers. Among this class stands Chas. Johnson whose experience and practical knowledge of his business commands high commendation. It does this for various reasons, first because of his superior manufactures, for if bricks are not properly made and burned, they are almost useless for this climate, and the trouble is very great to purchasers, and unfortunately are found out as a rule at a time when the injury can scarcely be remedied. We allude to a person's buying worthless bricks for a building, which after they have been put in the wall, crumble after having been exposed to the weather but a short time. This is too often the case where bricks are obtained from incompetent, and inexperienced manufacturers. In view of this, we take pleasure as editor of this Directory in saying that from all we have been able to learn, the manufactures of the above named gentleman are of the highest character. This comes of course from his facilities, long experience and practical knowledge. He came to this country from Sweden in 1852, and after working for a prominent brick-maker in Rock Island, Ills., for several years, came here in 1856, and after working at his trade till 1864, began on his own account, and has continued ever since, working up the largest trade of the kind in the city. He has furnished brick for many of the prominent buildings of the city, among which are Geo. W. Brown's corn planter works, Brown's Hotel, Catholic school house, High school, Western Business College and many others. He is located on Monmouth road where he has several fine kilns, eleven acres of fine clay land from which bricks are made by hand, and are very even. Chas. Johnson is recognized as a leading brick manufacturer, and responsible, industrious gentleman and should receive the patronage of all intending builders in preference to outsiders, while his facilities are so great and advantages given are equal to such and in many cases much better.

JOHN WALTER, Sample Room and Beer Merchant.

Among the citizens of Galesburg who have many friends and who have secured a comfortable position in life, stands the above-named gentleman, whose residence in this city covers a period of nearly twenty years. He is a German by birth, coming to this country in the year 1853, at which date he arrived in Chicago, going from the latter place to Aurora, Ill., in 1855. At this place he remained until 1860, during which time he worked at his trade as baker. In 1860 he moved to Galesburg, and has resided and done business here ever since. From 1860 to 1868 he followed the business of baking, when he opened his present sample rooms which have ever been well known. He has been successful as a business man, and is quite a property owner to-day, owning the building he occupies, No. 23 S. Prairie St. In addition to keeping a finely arranged and well equipped bar he is the sole agent in this city for Phil. Best's superior lager beer, manufactured at Milwaukee, Wis. This beer he sells in large and small quantities, always having a large quantity on hand. This he keeps in his excellent and well constructed ice house, which is one of the finest and most convenient in the city. It is 14x26 feet, two stories high, of brick and has a capacity of 500 kegs of beer, and many tons of ice. John Walter is one of our solid and liberal citizens, never being behind in contributing his full quota to all enterprises that have for their object the benefit of the city in which he is so deeply interested as a business man and property owner.

BENGTSON & SWENSON, Popular Grocers.

The above named gentlemen conduct one of the oldest and most popular grocery houses in the city, which has been in existence for the past twenty-two years, and is popular and very favorably known as the "Swede grocery." It must not be assumed however, that because the gentlemen owning and conducting it are of Swedish nationality and do a large business among their fellow country people that its trade is confined to them solely, for this would be a gross mistake, as their trade extends to all classes of citizens. As we have said, the business has been established twenty-two years, and has been conducted by Mr. Peter Bengtson and associates for a dozen years past. The firm is now composed of himself and Mr. N. P. Swenson having been in existence since last year. They are each hard working persons, full of energy and business capacity, besides keeping a very full stock of everything usually kept in a leading house of this kind, have one of the finest delivery wagons and teams in the city for the conveyance of ordered goods to their numerous customers within the city limits. Mr. Bengtson has lived in Galesburg since the year 1854, having devoted the best part of his life to the grocery trade, and is well posted in the same, while Mr. Swenson is an old grocer, and along with his partner is well posted in the business and very popular in this neighborhood.

E. T. GREEN, Pawnbroker and Furniture Dealer.

All business places are of advantage to a city, and among the various ones are a few which offer special inducements in their respective line. Among this class is that of the above named gentleman, on whom we propose to write a few lines for the guidance of the public to one of the most beneficial places in any city if rightly conducted. We believe we are right in saying, that never in the history of Galesburg, has there been a house of this character so full and complete as this, and we believe that in Mr. E. T. Green the city has a citizen and business man whom she should gladly welcome and sustain. He was for years in Chicago, up to the great fire, and about three years ago located here with a firm determination of making this his future home and business place. He first began in the undertaking business, which was so badly needed here, and after conducting it successfully for a short time, sold out. Shortly afterwards he established his present business, and since then has been remarkably successful. He was the first person, we understand, in the city, taking out and paying for an annual pawnbroker's license, and since doing so his place has been well patronized and popularly known as the "College City Loan office." One reason for the success achieved is, that financially he is always prepared to make advances on any and all kinds of goods. Again, besides conducting the pawnbroking business he deals extensively in furniture, upholstery and house-furnishing goods generally, and has a very fine stock from which to select. Buying for cash and securing goods both new and second hand, we have no hesitation in endorsing what he claims, viz: "to be able to discount the prices of any other house in his line." Musical instruments and household goods generally, may be bought here at low prices, while persons having anything to sell, can always find a purchaser in E. T. Green.

SAM. MARTIN, Prop. "Grotto" Restaurant.

And now comes the turn of the above popular restaurant to be noticed among the leading and successful institutions of Galesburg. The "Grotto" restaurant was opened on the 1st of Feb. 1878, and never in the history of the city has a similar or any other institution been more uniformly successful or grown into more universal favor in the same length of time, and but very few have ever attained the same point of success. When "Sam" Martin opened, he determined to keep a first-class place, and in order to let the people know of the important fact, began to liberally inform them through the only proper channel, printer's ink. After doing this but a short time, he attracted customers in unprecedented numbers, and continues to keep his name before the public all the time in view of which and the fact that he fills the conditions of his advertisements by keeping a first-class place, with excellent accommodations and at very reasonable prices, he must ever be liberally patronized. His place is located in the Northwest corner of the Public Square in the basement, and is nicely furnished and conveniently arranged. There are public rooms in the front and more secluded ones in the rear with wash room and everything to make farmers and transients comfortable, while the prices are uniformly low. His bar is a model of neatness and taste, while in fine liquors and cigars he holds a high reputation. He bottles rum, gin, brandy, whiskies, the labels on which and the name in which they are put up goes to prove his liberality and enterprise. Sam Martin has resided in this vicinity for ten years and is well and favorably known, and we believe no younger business in the city has a greater number of friends or are more liberal and attentive to the wants of customers.

JOHN B. COLTON, Dry Goods, Clothing, &c.

The business of the above named gentleman is the oldest in the city, having been established by his father Hon. Chauncey S. Colton, in 1837. It has been owned and conducted by John B. Colton, since 1866, and has ever been one of the leading and most popular establishments in the city. It has always been the aim of the house to keep a full assortment of Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear, and in the large double store occupied at 1 & 3 East Main Street, corner public square, the proprietor has ample room for each department. He has also ample means financially, and this important item enables him to command the best goods at the lowest market rates, all of which gives him a leading place among merchants for facilities offered purchasers. His dry goods department is very full and complete, and embraces an unusually choice selection of dress goods, silks, shawls, white and fancy goods, trimmings and hosiery, ready made clothing, cloths, boots, shoes, hats, caps and furnishing goods are kept in large supply in each, of which articles the proprietor informs us he will not be undersold. In addition to the above he has a separate merchant tailoring department, and authorizes the statement that with his excellent cutter and workmen and his advantages in buying material, that he can get up fine clothing at much less prices than are usually charged. John B. Colton is one of our most enterprising merchants, and enjoys the patronage and friendship of numerous persons. In fact he is one of our most popular and public spirited citizens, and delights to contribute liberally to all the meritorious enterprises of this city in which he has resided since 1836.

TRASK & GENTRY, First-class Jewelers.

There are but few of us outside the business, comparatively speaking, who understand the quality or value of any article of jewelry. In view of this fact and the consequence of there being but few places which command their inducements for buying, both through long experience and financial means, we take pleasure in saying a few words on the above firm and their elegant house. In the first place the store is one of the oldest if not the oldest in the city, and was brought by W. W. Washburn, Esq., to great prominence after many years of earnest hard work. On April 19, 1875, the above firm purchased the business, Mr. Gentry having its management since that date. During this time they have not amassed a fortune, but have done a good business, and for the reason that they keep an elegant assortment of goods and sell the same at small marginal profits. This, they are easily enabled to do, and to prove as they say on their advertisement in another part of this work, that "the cheapest and best place in the city to buy watches, clocks and jewelry, is at Trask & Gentry's." The reason for this is simple enough when understood, and lies in the fact that Mr. Ed. W. Trask, the first named partner, is a very wealthy gentleman and a large importer and jeweler, having one of the most palatial establishments in the country at Aurora, Ill., and another in Chicago. Being so largely engaged in the jewelry business, at which he has been all his life, and having financial means to take advantage of all discounts, &c., he is enabled to sell for about the same price that many dealers have to pay themselves. Thus, it will be seen why they are prepared to exhibit an elegant and diversified stock and why they can sell at a small margin. Another advantage, not to be overlooked, is that their goods are all guaranteed, and a recommendation from this house, which we have intimately known for many years, is as good as gold. Trask & Gentry aim at selling the better class of goods and at one price to all, not asking five dollars for a one dollar article, and ultimately taking two dollars, just double its worth. It is a pleasure to trade at such a house, and Galesburg citizens may well feel proud of the elegant store of Trask & Gentry's, located corner Main street and public square.

H. W. CARPENTER, Insurance and Real Estate.

The above-named gentleman is probably one of the very best known of any of Galesburg's citizens, and not only one of the best known, but one of the oldest residents. He came to this city with his parents from the State of New York in 1840, having been here ever since, except four years during which he was in the Union army. In 1861 he enlisted in the 14th Ills. Cavalry, and after serving with credit to himself and his country until 1865, received his discharge as regimental adjutant. In 1859 he established his present agency, and for many years has done a leading insurance, real estate and foreign exchange and passage ticket business. He now represents about half a score prominent home and foreign companies whose aggregate assets foot nearly fifty million dollars. The names of them may be found under their proper heading in the business part of the work. Besides insurance, he represents the "Anchor" and "Inman" ocean steamship lines, and issues passage tickets at lowest rates to any port in Europe, besides issuing drafts for any amount. H. W. Carpenter is at present our efficient chief of the fire department, and Secretary of the Western Illinois Fair Association, and besides these has been engaged in more valuable enterprises which required hard work and funds than any man of his means in the city. He has ever been active in advancing the interests of his cherished city, and deserves success for his liberality and indefatigable energy.

ARNOLD & LOMBARD, Coal Miners and Merchants.

Among the various businesses which have developed rapidly and grown into prominence in Galesburg during the past few years is that of the mining and selling of coal. This is partially accounted for in the fact that coal is easily secured from the mines of this locality, but principally because during the past few years it has been conducted by the right kind of pushing, energetic individuals. Up to within a very recent period but very little life was manifested in this branch of trade, and the consequence was that but little coal was consumed, as consumers had to secure their supply in a very casual way. All this has been obviated since Messrs. Arnold and Lombard have been in the field. They have infused new life in the business, and through their financial ability, well known energy, enterprise and facilities have gained an immense trade and given advantages unsurpassed. The firm is composed of William Arnold and W. G. Lombard two gentlemen well known for their promptness in business and superior advantages. Mr. Arnold has not only been successful at this business but at several others during his twenty-one years residence here. He came to Galesburg in 1857, a mason by trade, at which he worked until 1860, when he was engaged by the McCormick Reaper Co., for whom he traveled one year. In 1861 he went into the employ of Edwin Post, in the lumber business, with whom he remained until 1865, when he bought into the then grocery firm of Knowles & Hunt, and Hunt & Arnold continued the business. This firm continued and met with good success till 1872, when it changed to Arnold Bros. With this firm he remained until 1874, when he sold out and made a trip to Texas, and located near Tehuacana, on the Texas Central R. R., and near the Tehuacana schools which are owned and conducted by the State. In the same year he sold out this interest to B. Lombard, Jr., and on the 16th of Dec., 1874, bought out the coal business of Luther Becker, at which he has remained ever since. The firm owns mines at Soperville, where they employ from twenty to sixty hands and where they secure their excellent coal which is sold so low in this market. Besides this they deal in anthracite coal, having an arrangement with the eastern mine owners whereby they are enabled to give every advantage possible. They dispose of 300 thousand bushels of soft coal per annum, besides 1000 tons of anthracite and 1000 cords of wood.

ANTHONY & MARS, Lumber Merchants.

Among the firms of Galesburg in which we take most pleasure in noticing in the editorial and historical part of this, our third Directory, is the above, each of which member has been in this city since the spring of 1856. During the past twenty-three years they have been identified as pushing and cautious business men, and rank to-day among those who, by their indomitable perseverance, have gained a position whereby they can truly rejoice in what is claimed for them: "reliable merchants and thoroughly representative business men of the city." In 1856 Mr. Anthony established this business, which has continued ever since, and he is the oldest lumber merchant of the city. When Mr. Anthony came he determined to succeed, and with clear head and willing hands he went industriously to work and so gradually gained success, until to-day he stands among the very solid men of the city, and as one of the largest real estate and property owners who has ever contributed liberally to the interests of Galesburg, in which he has so much pride. Mr. Mars, as we have said, came also in 1856, and established the first sash factory in the city, after running which three years, he converted it into a paper mill. After conducting this one year, he was engaged to manage Edwin Post's lumber yard, and in 1863 went South, and was in the U. S. treasurer's department at Memphis, Tenn., for one year. From 1864 he managed the last named gentleman's lumber business, again until 1870, when he bought out Mr. Post's interest and has continued for himself since that date. Thus it will be seen that each has had large experience in this business, with which and their sound judgment, cautious business character and cash purchases, are prepared to compete with all fair competition. They have a finely stocked yard in which they keep the various sorts, qualities and sizes of lumber, and everything pertaining to a first-class business of this kind. They offer good facilities to buyers, while as gentlemen of liberal actions and prominence they rank among the foremost.

A. BOYER, Broom Manufacturer.

The above-named gentleman has built up the largest and most prosperous broom manufactory ever established in Galesburg and one of the largest in this part of the country. It was established in 1866, since which time its business has gradually been increased and extended, until now it has a capacity of 200 dozen brooms per week, and ships over an extensive territory. Since the last issue of our Directory, the proprietor has greatly enlarged and improved everything about the establishment until he is said to have one of the most complete and convenient broom factories in the West. The factory is 60x90 feet, two stories high, and equipped with a first rate class of machinery, mostly propelled by steam power. From twenty to twenty-five hands find employment, and thus much advantage accrues to the city in consequence of the Galesburg steam broom manufactory being located here. The brooms made have a wide and valuable reputation, as they are said to equal any in the market and to be superior to the majority, while their prices are very low. Mr. Boyer, who by the way, is so well known as the "blind broom maker," having been deprived of his sight for nearly thirty years, has invented and patented an "adjustable lever broom press," which is meeting with ready sale among manufacturers, who declare it to be the best invention in the market. Dealers in brooms and manufacturers should make a special note of this institution and extend a liberal patronage both for its value to the city and themselves. Mrs. Boyer attends to the shipping and book keeping of the concern, and an inspection of her work shows that she fills these positions with rare tact and precision.

S. SPEAR, "The Hatter and Furrier."

Who is there in this vicinity among the gentlemen and ladies who does not know the genial and energetic S. Spear? Who is there in this vicinity who is not familiar with his name in "print," but especially would we ask who is there that is not familiar with his elegant hat and fur establishment, corner of Main and Prairie streets, opposite Post Office, and has not bought some of the numerous articles in which he deals? If there is one such person he or she has yet an opportunity of securing some article they may need of the latest style at the lowest possible price for the same quality. In 1860 Mr. Spear first came to Galesburg, and during the past nineteen years he has been one of our hardest working, superlatively energetic and enterprising business men. He has by this course gradually worked up a trade from a few thousand dollars a year to one of great magnitude, when we take into account the size of the city. His store is one of the finest and most attractive we ever saw in a city the size of this, and is one in which every citizen seems to take a pride. It is elegantly arranged and filled from cellar to roof with an assortment of goods and of as varied a character as we only expect to find in a metropolis. "Spear the Hatter," of Galesburg, as he is familiarly known, first began as a retailer, but gradually added to his business until to-day he is one of the most extensive jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers in his line, and the immense quantities of goods that go out from his place tend to benefit himself no more than they give tone to the city as a business point of importance. One great advantage he has is to be found in the fact that he buys only from first hands and for cash, thus enabling him to compete, as he says, with all competitors.

A. S. DEVENDORF, Druggist.

This being our third Directory and History of Galesburg, it is but right that all the prominent business men of the city should be represented in this department. Among this class we have to name the above gentleman, who ranks among the oldest settlers and business men, and among that list who have contributed liberally to the present prosperity and standing of the city. A. S. Devendorf came to this city in 1851, and during the past twenty-eight years has been engaged in various callings, each of which, while not of flatteringly pecuniary advantage to himself has added to the interests of this locality. On his arrival he went on a farm, afterwards was treasurer and manager of Lombard University, then in the hardware business, and for the past fourteen or fifteen years has been selling drugs. He has always conducted a first-class store, and to-day is recognized as one of the leading druggists of Galesburg. His store is located at 16 East Main cor. Cherry street, and is very tastily arranged and well supplied with a fine line of goods, all of which are sold at living prices. He makes quite a point in his prescription department which is carefully conducted, Mr. A. C. Rigg, a gentleman of fourteen years experience in this business, being his able assistant.

GEO. W. BARNETT, General Grain Merchant.

In all businesses we find men who, by their steady perseverance and unswerving integrity in trade, continue in business year by year and gradually acquire not only a reputation and standing of a high order, but invariably financial success. Among this class stands the gentleman whose name heads this notice, and on whom we take more than ordinary pleasure in saying a few words in this part of our work. Geo. W. Barnett came to Galesburg in November, 1855, and in January the following year commenced his present business, at which he has continued ever since, on the same location. This goes to prove that he is as stable in his staying qualities as he is in his business character, which stands as high as any man's in this vicinity. At his commencement he erected an elevator with capacity of 30,000 bushels, in which he continued to do business until June 10, 1876, when it was consumed by fire, but by the 10th day of September following had completed his present building and began to receive grain. This is one of the finest, most convenient and substantial elevators in the West, and we never looked through one before in a city this size which was kept in such perfect order and cleanliness. The proprietor has gradually increased his business until now he commands a trade of a million and a half bushels per annum. He is conveniently located on the C., B. & Q. R. R. track, for handling, shipping and receiving, and besides this has warehouses at Woodhull, Wataga, Abingdon, St. Augustine, Avon, Prairie City, Bardolph and Cameron. Mr. Barnett is well known in the grain trade all over the country, and is recognized as one of the most substantial and cautious men in the trade. He is now serving the people of the second ward in the city council for the second term, and is acquitting himself in that responsible position with the same fidelity and precision he has done in his own business.

ISAAC H. BARTON, Scrap Iron and Wool Merchant.

Adjoining Barnett's elevator is another institution which deserves mention in our editorial review, because of its prominence and because of its being conducted by one of Galesburg's most reliable and wide-awake citizens. We allude to Isaac H. Barton, who deals in pig and all kinds of scrap iron and wool. He came to this city in 1862, from Cherry Valley, N. Y., and for a number of years followed his trade as builder. He continued at this business for a number of years, and in several other enterprises, engaging in his present business about ten years ago. During this time he has been more successful than any other man at the same calling, and to-day is well and favorably known over the whole of the C., B. & Q. R. R., on which he transacts an immense trade. He is one of the most liberal and up-and-doing kind of men we ever met, and the word fail is not in his lexicon. Mr. Barton occupies a large warehouse, which he erected on Depot street, alongside the track, which gives him ample room and shipping facilities. He pays the highest price in cash for all articles in his line, and ships his wares to many of the prominent foundries and rolling mills of the country. His trade in wool amounts to some thirty-five to fifty thousand pounds a year, and altogether makes his business one of magnitude, and shows what may be accomplished by a faithful devotion and adaptation to the business we follow.

M. J. CHASE, Physician and Surgeon.

The medical profession of Galesburg occupies a prominent position, and embraces in its list of practitioners some of the leading physicians of the West. Among those who have secured a high place in the profession and a leading practice stands Maurice J. Chase, whose experience in Galesburg dates back from 1859, but whose whole experience dates from 1850. In the latter year he graduated at the "Vermont College of Medicine," at Woodstock, Vermont, and shortly thereafter moved to Boston, where he was engaged in the Massachusetts general hospital. In February, 1854, he came to Indiana, and two years afterward moved to Macomb, McDonough county, Ill., where he remained until coming to Galesburg, in July, 1859. During the past nearly twenty years he has done a good practice, and now numbers among his numerous patients a large list of our most intelligent citizens. He is a genial and social gentleman and has many warm and staunch friends in this neighborhood.

THE COVENANT MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

of Illinois has its principal office at Galesburg, and is an institution of which our citizens are proud and in which they take a deep interest. It was incorporated Jan. 9, 1877, and since then has secured between two and three thousand members, almost an unprecedented number in so short a time. It is a mutual insurance society, specially instituted for the benefit of the Odd Fellows order, and every one of the large list of directors and officers are members of that body, and of high standing. This gives an assurance that its affairs will be administered in an efficient, prompt and faithful manner. Out of the great number of members, only six deaths have thus far occurred, five of whose claims have already been paid in full. In looking over the list of officials, we find the names of fifteen past officers of the Grand Lodge of the State, which goes to prove that its interests are in the hands of the right men. Its officers here are A. W. Berggen, our excellent Sheriff, Prest., Lake W. Sanborn, "the" insurance man, Vice-Prest., Capt. C. E. Lanstrum, Treas., and Capt. E. F. Phelps, Sec., to whose exertions, efficient and faithful management the large success already attained by the Association is chiefly due.

MISS A. KALEY & CO., First-class Millinery Goods.

Every city should have its representative milliners, who should be of that class that shall promptly be in the fashion market, do their business honorably and charge only a fair price for their goods. This, however, is not to be found in all cities at all times, for too often this class of persons charge exorbitantly, and for so doing the whole class is condemned. This is unjust but nevertheless true, very often, in view of which fact we take pleasure in saying a few words on the above firm and its business. The firm consists of Misses Anna and Amelia Kaley (sisters), who are located at 7 East Main street, where they have been since April, 1878, and while they have not amassed a fortune, have done well, all things considered. They have as good facilities as any and better than many for buying, and they pride themselves on doing work well and honestly, and charging moderately. When this fact is more thoroughly known, then it will be more thoroughly appreciated, and a greater patronage extended on two of the most deserving and exemplary young ladies of Galesburg. They have an elegant and diversified stock, and the fact that they have been connected for a number of years past with the great house of D. B. Fisk & Co., Chicago, proves their qualifications and enables them to secure the best of inducements. Their motto is: no poor work at any price, and reasonable charges for the best goods.

EDWIN H. LEACH, Attorney at Law.

The bar of Galesburg will probably rank higher than the average of those in cities the size of this. Among the list of lawyers are many of ripe age whose large experience has given them a leading position. There are also a few among the younger members of the profession who rank among the foremost, and one of this class is the gentleman whose name heads this notice. Edwin H. Leach came to this city with his father 'Clement Leach from Madison Co., N. Y. in 1859, and since then has claimed this city as his home. He prepared himself for college at the academy here, and in 1869 graduated at Knox College, receiving the degree of A. B., and three years later the degree of A. M., upon delivering the masters oration. From 1869 to 1871 he was in the law department of Harvard University and there received the degree of L. L. B., and upon completing the legal course in the latter year was admitted to the bar. Since then he has practiced his profession and proven himself a successful attorney and secured a good practice, and ranks high for the faithful discharge of his duties to clients.

H. M. IRWIN, Physician and Surgeon.

The above-named gentleman, comparatively speaking, is meeting with flattering success in the medical profession, by which however, we do not mean that he is doing as large a practice as several of the oldest practitioners, but considering the time he has been established here, has done well. H. M. Irwin first come to Galesburg in 1865 from Pennsylvania, and since then has called this his home, although he has been away a number of years. In 1872 he began the study of medicine, attending lectures at Philadelphia, graduating at the "Boston University School of Medicine" in 1875. Immediately after graduation he went to Europe, and there practiced and continued to study in Paris, Berlin, and Vienna. In June, 1878, he returned to Galesburg for the permanent practice of medicine, since when, as we have said, he has done a good business. He is a young gentleman having many warm friends, and very studious in the medical profession in which he takes so much pride.

J. A. W. DAVIS, First-Class Dentist.

Every one will concede the great importance of having pointed out a thoroughly practical dentist, and one whose reputation is above reproach in faithfully attending to dental operations. In no profession is the public more likely to be imposed on, in our judgment, than in that of dentistry, hence we should always be cautious in selecting our dentist. Practical and long experience all must admit gives persons greater proficiency in any calling, in view of which and the character of his practice we take pleasure in pointing the public to Dr. J. A. W. Davis, and have no hesitation in saying that he is an operative and mechanical dentist of more than average ability, and a thoroughly educated and refined gentleman, in whom implicit confidence may be placed. He came here in May, 1875, from Chicago, where he stood high in the profession, and has been in practice since 1867. Since locating in Galesburg he has gradually established a large practice, principally among our leading citizens, ever priding himself on the quality of his work. The doctor has conveniently and nicely furnished rooms at 6 E. Main street, Metropolitan block, and attends very assiduously to professional calls personally, whereby patrons are assured of securing first-class work. He has one of the finest chairs we ever saw, and all the latest inventions and improvements in the way of instruments, so as to render the different operations the more pleasant and lasting to patients.

M. D. COOKE, Police Magistrate.

So well known and so highly esteemed is the above named gentleman that were it not for other considerations we should omit to mention his name in this department of our work. But in order that those who may be seeking just such an individual, and who may be a stranger to him, we will say that he is one of the oldest settlers of Galesburg and vicinity. He came to this city in 1856, but to Knox county in 1852, from his native State, Vermont. During the past twenty-seven years he has been an active worker to further the interests and good name of Galesburg, probably as much as any other person of similar means, and more so than many of larger means. He has served as member of the board of education five or six years with great acceptance, and during the past twenty-two years has held the position of Police Magistrate. This is a compliment to be proud of by any man, and goes to prove the confidence the public have in his fidelity, sound judgment, and fairness of decisions. He is an attorney at law and well qualified for the responsible position which he has for so many years held with distinction. To conclude we would say that in collections he has always been entrusted with large claims, and from some of the leading firms in the country, which he attends to with rare fidelity, but no more so to these than to those of less magnitude.

M. S. CARR, Physician and Surgeon.

Ever since his commencement to practice in Galesburg in 1860, Dr. Carr has held the good opinion of this community to a large degree, and to-day after nearly nineteen years experience here commands a large business and a host of friends. When we say that he has been here nineteen years it must not be supposed that that is the extent of his professional experience, for that is only about half the length of time he has been in the profession. He commenced practice in 1844, and is a graduate of "Castleton Medical College" of Castleton, Vermont. After graduating, he practiced in Springfield, Penna., and in 1850 moved to Peoria, Ills., where he remained until coming here in 1860. Since then he has followed his profession except from 1862 to 1865 when he was serving his country in the field of battle as Capt. of Co. A in the 14th Ills. cavalry. The doctor's office is at 25 E. Simmons street adjoining his residence, his office hours being from 7 to 9 a. m., 12 to 2, and 6 to 8 p. m.

N. A. KNOWLES, Bookseller and Stationer.

Probably one of the most deserving and reliable young men ever engaging in business in Galesburg, is the above, who, during the past five years, has established a good trade and gained a host of friends in consequence of his personal worth and advantages given in his line of trade. His business was established many years ago, having been purchased by him in 1874, at the time he came here from his native place, Syracuse, N. Y., where he had followed the book and stationery trade for four years. His store is located at 35 East Main street, where he keeps a full and complete stock of everything pertaining to this business, making a specialty of fine goods in his line. While goods are of fine quality and found as represented, yet the prices charged are very reasonable, a feature he prides himself in. In addition to books, stationery, blank books, toys, fancy goods, &c., he and Mr. R. W. Weld are agents for the celebrated Geo. Woods & Co.'s Parlor Organs, this department being in charge of the last named gentleman, who is well posted in musical matters. They have made special arrangements with the manufacturers for these organs and have no fear in saying that they can discount any others in the market in price when quality is considered.

FRANK A. BROWN, Men and Boys' Clothier.

The above named gentleman came to this city from Washington Co., Ohio, his native place, in 1867, and since his arrival to the present time has been, a very highly respected individual, taking rank with the most unassuming and reliable. He first engaged as salesman in a clothing store where he remained seven years, after which and in 1873 he began for himself, and has since secured a good share of trade. While Frank A. Brown is as anxious to make as much money as possible, yet he is especially anxious to do this rather from doing a large business on a small margin, than a small business on a large margin. This the public have found out and extended him a liberal and growing patronage. With his fourteen years experience at this business in Galesburg, buying at the lowest prices of reliable and large houses, and his extensive and favorable acquaintance it is not to be wondered at that he does a large trade. His goods and representations may be relied on, and this, together with his gentlemanly and courteous demeanor, has given him that start which no doubt is the nucleus of an immense trade in the near future.

DOW & SON, "The Livery Men."

If there is one person in this whole vicinity who does not know the genial "Uncle" Samuel, and "Andy" Dow, most certainly he cannot be very well acquainted, for it would be difficult to find two more widely known individuals than they. The senior member came from New Hampshire to Mercer county, in 1838, where he was extensively engaged in farming until the year 1857, when he came to this city. He began in his present business in 1863, previous to which, for several years, he was traveling for Geo. W. Brown's corn planter works. It will thus be seen that Dow & Son rank among our oldest citizens, and all will admit that they rank among the reliable and enterprising business men of Galesburg. The stable they own was established some twenty years ago, and has been in the Dow family since 1863. It is conducted by S. Dow & Son, who manage it in an admirable and praiseworthy manner. Everything about the place is kept clean and in very systematic order and nothing appears to be left undone that would in any way conduce to their patron's advantage or pleasure. They keep an excellent and large stock which includes twenty to twenty-five horses and about the same number of carriages, buggies and sleighs. Besides, they have two very fine hearses and make a specialty of furnishing carriages for funerals. We take pleasure in making the above deserved remarks on these gentlemen, for they are courteous in business and prompt in transactions, all of which has made them popular and successful livery men.

BANCROFT & LANSTRUM, Leading Grocers.

In January, 1866, the above firm was established, and since then through indomitable perseverance, affability, close application to the wants and "whims" of customers, has done a gradually increasing trade, which we have no doubt from its extent, must foot about seventy-five thousand dollars per annum. All this, and an inspection of their well ordered store, their keen observation of the public's wants, and the reliability of their every day transactions goes to prove what may be accomplished by the right kind of characteristics in due time. Although the firm which is composed of A. N. Bancroft and Capt. C. E. Lanstrum was not established until 1866, yet each individual had resided in this city many years previously, and rank among the older settlers of Galesburg. The first-named came from Worcester Co., Mass., in 1849, and for many years thereafter followed his business as builder and contractor, and erected many of the prominent buildings of the city. In 1857 he retired from this business, and in the following spring began in the grocery trade at which he continued on the west side until 1863. At this date, he erected the store the firm occupies at 5 S. Prairie street which he rented till 1866 the time the above firm was established. Capt. Lanstrum first came here from Sweden in 1852 and engaged in various businesses until 1858, when he began with Mr. Bancroft, with whom he remained until 1861. At this time he left for Des Moines, Iowa, where, in the fall of 1861, he assisted in organizing Co. B of the 15th regiment Iowa Vol. After organization, he went out to battle as Lieutenant of this Co., and for nearly four years faithfully and very efficiently performed the duties of a good and brave soldier, being honorably discharged in May, 1865, as Captain. In conclusion, we take pleasure in saying that no firm is held in higher esteem than that of Bancroft & Lanstrum, and none offers superior inducements in their line of trade.

JAMES H. CALKINS, Justice of the Peace.

We are under the impression that voters should be very careful in casting their votes for a justice of the peace, for to them individually it is of great importance that justices' courts should be presided over by gentlemen of integrity and some intelligence at least. Too often we find these positions carelessly filled, but in this respect Galesburg is particularly fortunate. In the above named gentleman's election to the responsible position he occupies, our citizens have exhibited much good judgment, and have already been repaid for their thoughtfulness in witnessing the duties of the office being discharged with honesty, wisdom and promptitude. We have heard many persons say that in rendering decisions, 'Squire Calkins knows no friendship other than justice to all, while in collections committed to his care he is very prompt and vigilant. This we are pleased to hear and record, for we believe he is a credit to the position to which he has been elevated by his fellow-citizens. He came from Wyoming county, N. Y., his native place, in 1853, from which time to 1860 he was in Ohio two years, in Bureau county, Ill., three years, and mostly until the latter date had his headquarters in this city. In 1860 he moved to Minnesota, where he remained two years, and in 1862 came to this city, where he has remained ever since. During this time he has been engaged in the leather and hardware business, and in 1875 was elected mayor of the city. In the spring of 1877 he was elected to his present position, which he is very creditably and faithfully filling.

S. N. GROSE & CO'S LARGE BOOK STORE

Is still located at the old stand, No. 8 E. Main street, and it would be a "gross" mistake to neglect mentioning its management and advantages, in this department of our work. It is one of the oldest and most reputable houses of the city, it having been established in 1863. The managing partner has been a resident and business man of Galesburg since 1855, and for the last twenty-four years has always held a leading place in this community for integrity and solidity of character, and a lack of empty ostentation. We allude now specially to him personally, but in alluding to his store we have to admit that it is one of the largest and most completely stocked of any similar store in any similar city, and presents the showy appearance all business men are justly entitled to pride themselves in. Here is carried an enormous stock of the thousand and one articles which are included under the head of books, stationery, toys, fancy goods, news depots, &c., and we are in informed on the proprietor's reliable authority, that at no store can goods be bought cheaper where owners have secured the goods in a legitimate way. He has the best facilities for buying, and attending personally and strictly to his business from morning to night, he feels satisfied that all the advantages a legitimate business will justify, can be and are given by him.

FRED. J. PRATT, "99" Cent Store.

It has often been asked why the above energetic gentleman has met with so large a success in business, and why so many others in similar businesses have failed. The reason is simple enough when properly understood. Compared with the whole number engaging in business however, there are but few who do succeed, and this for various reasons some of which may be found in a lack of knowing where to buy, inattention to business and a failure to secure the confidence of the purchasing public. In all these particulars, Fred. J. Pratt is very fortunate and to a large extent these are the reasons for the immense trade he has succeeded in commanding since his establishment here in August, 1876. In the first place, he has had considerable experience in buying and selling goods, in the second place, he is very attentive to business, and in the third place, he has gained by his unassuming and courteous conduct the confidence of our citizens. His store is located at 23 E. Main street, and is popularly known over this county as the ninety-nine cent store, partially because that is the name under which he sails, but especially because here may be purchased for ninety cents articles that at many places would cost much more. He keeps innumerable articles in the fancy goods line, all of which are bought at such prices that he can give good inducements. They are purchased direct of importers and manufacturers in large quantities through one central house in Boston, which makes purchases for five or six hundred similar stores throughout the country, thus proving to some extent why the genial, pushing and obliging Fred. J. Pratt can sell goods so cheap.

MRS. E. M. YOUNG, Reliable and Fashionable Milliner.

There are several very reliable and fashionable milliners in Galesburg who stand at the head of the business in which they are engaged. One of these is the above named lady, who has now resided in this city since 1860, and been established in business since 1865, being one of the oldest if not the oldest milliner of the city. All through the past fourteen years she has commanded a large trade and the highest respect for the admirable manner in which she has conducted her business, and for her true merit as an irreproachable lady of high standing and character. Always among the first in the fashion market, and always representing goods truthfully and charging moderately, the ladies of this vicinity have learned to highly regard her personally, and patronize her liberally. Very studiously and industriously has she followed the millinery business, and to-day she rejoices in the position she occupies as one of the very leaders of her class. Quite a number of excellent milliners are here employed, among whom are the Misses Jerauld and Bechtel, who are experts at the business. With these, and Mrs. Young's well known integrity, taste and punctuality, we need not wonder at her great success.

HAMBLIN & BROTHER, Agricultural Implements, Stoves, &c.

While the above is a new institution, yet its individual members stand among the very few old settlers of Galesburg. The firm is composed of M. K. & D. W. Hamblin, who came to this city with their father Wm. B. Hamblin, in the year 1836, and have watched and contributed to the growth of Galesburg in various ways in a commendable and enterprising manner. The first named has been in the agricultural implement business for many years as agent for McCormick reapers and Vandiver corn planters, and is well versed in these and other farming tools, while D. W. is well versed in the tin and stove business, and equally well and favorably known. A short time ago the two started out in business together and are now seeking the patronage of the citizens of Galesburg and Knox Co. They started under favorable circumstances, for in the first instance they occupy their own store at 64 East Main street, and consequently are on light expenses, which, added to the fact that their goods are either purchased or handled on commission from leading houses, go to prove that they are formidable competitors in their line. Among their goods are McCormick's reapers and mowers, the Vandiver corn planter, and all other implements for farmers' use including wagons, carriages, coal, wood, and stoves in which to consume the latter articles. With the facilities they have, both financially and otherwise together, with their well known integrity and responsibility, we conclude that no better inducements can be secured in the above articles than at M. K. & D. W. Hamblin's 64 East Main st., Galesburg.

WENQUIST & JOHNSON, First-Class Boots and Shoes.

Among the boot and shoe dealers of any city there are usually a few who give unsurpassed inducements to purchasers, and these should be pointed out in a work of this character, and command the attention of all the citizens. Among the very leaders in their line stands the above firm, whose advantages are not surpassed by any other house in their line, and this comes of their having the best facilities for buying, added to which is the fact that they are both hard workers and on light expenses, while the managing partner is a practical workman. The business was started in March, 1874, by Mr. O. P. Wenquist, the firm being in existence since February, 1876. The business is conducted by Mr. W., and has been very successful, many of our leading citizens securing their footwear here, as they can depend on getting the best stock, good fits, and at much lower prices than at many other houses. He has been in this city since 1869, having had nine years' experience in Sweden before coming here. Wenquist & Johnson keep a finely selected stock of men's, women's, misses' and children's wear, but make a specialty of custom work. This department is superintended by Mr. W. in person, the well known and expert boot maker, Mr. A. F. Starr, being foreman, who has had thirty years' experience, the past nineteen years in Galesburg. Wenquist & Johnson are gentlemen to whom we take pleasure in referring as being among the leading boot and shoe dealers and manufacturers, and who from their honorable business career and facilities have built up a good trade which is constantly increasing.

BRADBURY & McOMBER'S Sash and Blind Factory.

One of the most important and valuable manufacturing institutions of Galesburg is the above, not only to its conductors, but to the citizens at large. And not only is it one of the most important institutions, but it is managed by two of Galesburg's most trusty, industrious and reliable citizens, and this to some extent accounts for its prosperity. We say prosperity advisedly, for while trade has been dull so long, and many things including freight rates have militated against their making large sums of money, yet through their facilities, integrity and accommodating actions have done well all things considered. The firm is composed of Otis T. Bradbury and Stephen H. McOmber, the former having been in Galesburg since 1866, and the latter since 1856, having had thirty and 25 years' experience as woodworker and carpenter respectively. They are very efficient at their business, and since 1873 have operated together during which time much fine work has been produced which consists of all kinds of building material, church pews and furniture. Their factory is that originally established by Mr. Gad D. Colton, and adjoins his foundry and machine shops and is equipped with a good class of machinery for the successful prosecution of this business.

RANSOM C. HUNT, Attorney at Law.

We have before stated that the legal profession of Galesburg is well represented by reliable and well-read lawyers, and this leads us to say that the above-named gentleman holds a good position among the fraternity. He was admitted to the bar in 1866 and during the past thirteen years has gained much practical knowledge and now commands a good practice. Whatever may have been his past personal errors in failing to act in such a manner as to increase his practice, he is determined that henceforth he will strictly attend to the duties of his profession and ever be ready to do business for those who may favor him with their patronage. He is acknowledged a lawyer of marked ability, and since he has taken such a large interest in the temperance cause, and shown by his works his faith, his practice has materially improved. His office is located at 54 East Main street, where those requiring a reliable lawyer should call.

E. H. CUSHING'S First-Class Restaurant

is still located at its old stand, 28 E. Main street, and has been established since the year 1864. During the past fifteen years it has held a high position among the leading restaurants of the West, and to-day holds its former prestige under the efficient, liberal and attentive management of its owner, E. H. Cushing. It is very finely furnished and supplied with everything that goes to make a restaurant and public resort successful, which includes first-class cooked meals, oyster stews, ice cream in season, the latter article of Cushing's having a remarkably wide reputation. Fruits, home-made candies, nuts, a fine line of cigars, and the usual complement of articles found in a first-class house of this kind, are kept in bountiful supply, while the genial Cushing avows his intention of not being outdone in quality of goods, attention to guests, or in lowness of prices.

HOFFHEIMER & CO., Liquor Merchants.

The above house which was established here in 1875 has succeeded in building up a business of considerable magnitude in the short space of four years. This has been secured by industry, energy and offering good goods in their line, which include the best-known brands. The firm is represented by Jacob and Solomon G. Hoffheimer, two pushing business men, the former of whom has been in the business the past twenty years. He has been connected with Hoffheimer Bros., of Cincinnati, who have been doing business for twenty-five years. After disconnecting himself from this house, he went into business for himself, which was seventeen years ago, since when his time has been spent in Quincy, Ill., Memphis, Tenn., and the past nearly four years here. Solomon G. has also had as many years experience at the business, and this accounts to some extent for the fine quality of articles to be found in their store together with their large connections which enables them to buy first quality goods at such prices as to give valuable inducements to consumers.

ADDISON L. DUERSON, Florist.

Since January, 1857, the above-named gentleman has been a resident of Galesburg, and for many years after his advent worked at the carpentering trade. In April, following his locating here, he purchased his present location on Maple avenue, where he has some eight acres, most of which is in a high state of cultivation as a vegetable garden, the remainder being laid out in building lots, which are for sale at very low figures and on easy terms. This is one of the pleasantest locations in the city and is a good opportunity for those of limited means to buy a finely located lot at a moderate price. In 1868, Mr. Duerson began as market gardener, to which he added in 1874 a floral department. Since the latter year he has gradually increased his facilities in this line and now has greenhouses which rank among the most complete and thorough to be found in similar sized cities. He intends hereafter to devote most of his time and energies to the floral department of his business, and intends to supply all comers, with as choice a variety of flowers, bulbs, house plants, &c., as can be found anywhere. Mr. Duerson is an old settler, it will be seen by the above, but what is of more importance, is the fact that he is one of the most industrious and reliable of our citizens and business men, whose word is equal in value to his "possessions."

PETER NELSON, Proprietor 83 Main Street Grocery.

The above named gentleman is an old resident, and although comparatively speaking a young business man, commands a good paying trade, having excelled many in his line who have had better opportunities. He came to this city from Sweden in 1860, and for eleven years thereafter worked at the cabinet making trade. Afterwards he worked for Mr. Peter Bengtson, the grocer, for several years, and September, 1878, began on his own account. Since then he has done a good business, securing an excellent class of customers. He is located at the above number, in a nicely fixed-up store, which like his goods is new. At this location he may always be found ready to wait on customers, and he is determined that if good goods, fair prices and polite attention will continue his present numerous customers, and secure others, then his trade shall be very large in the near future.

FLYNN & MERRICK, Props. "Board of Trade."

"The Board of Trade" No. 1 S. Cherry street, is probably one of the best known and most popular places in the city. It is owned and managed by two agreeable and polite gentlemen whose attention to their business and the enterprise they exhibit secures them many friends and customers. Each is well-known in this community, having resided here many years. The firm is composed of Daniel W. Flynn and S. S. Merrick who have resided in Galesburg and Knox Co., since 1866 and 1854 respectively. The former is a practical boot maker at which he worked many years, the latter having been at various businesses, and during the rebellion served his country with credit in the 45th regiment Ills. volunteers. In May 1877 the two formed a partnership which has continued since having done a good business and conducted a liberal establishment. The choicest wines, liquors and a fine line of cigars may be secured here, also billiards may be indulged in there being two fine tables in the house. Flynn & Merrick are affable gentlemen, and rank among the leaders of their class.

DR. J. C. WILLIAMS, Extracts, Lamps, &c.

The above named gentleman began here in a very small and unpretentious way in the year 1872, and has since then built up a greater business, perhaps, than was ever secured in the same length of time and under similar circumstances, in this city. He is a native of Groton, Conn., but was raised in Medina, Ohio. He has had considerable experience as a traveler, and manufacturer of flavoring extracts, and until the great fire in Chicago was doing a flourishing business. Being burned out in that memorable conflagration, he determined to seek a favorable location, and selected this city, and as we have said located here in 1872. Since doing so he has had no reason to regret the move, for he has secured a large trade. While he continues to manufacture his well known extracts, yet this probably is the minor part of his trade. His sales in lamps, chandeliers, fancy goods, revolvers, cutlery, jewelry, cigars and tobacco, are simply immense, the railroad employes extending a large share of their trade. Dr. Williams offers good inducements in his line, because he manufactures his own extracts, and buys all his goods for cash. He is an affable and cautious gentleman, and deserves the position he commands and the larger trade that awaits him in the near future.

NELS HAWKINSON, Sample Rooms.

Nels Hawkinson came to Galesburg with his parents from Sweden in 1856, and since then has resided here most of the time. At first he worked on the parental farm, afterwards at the cabinet trade, and in 1864, went South and worked in the government employ as carpenter. In 1865 he returned and found employment in the C. B. & Q. Ry. car shops and on the farm, and at the end of this year, went to Brookfield and engaged with the Hannibal and St. Joe Ry., as brakeman. While engaged with this Co., he had charge of a construction train, having twenty to thirty men under his charge.

From the latter place he returned in 1866 and went to farming, and the following year began to manage a farm for himself, which he continued until 1870. In this year he opened his present business at which he has remained until now, and we can say that no man in this city is more widely known than Nels Hawkinson. He is located at 5 and 7 South Cherry street, where he has large rooms and where he dispenses fine lager beer, wines, liquors and cigars, to those behaving themselves properly. Here, those who desire, may find recreation in a game of billiards or take their refreshments, when they will be politely waited on by the gentlemanly proprietor or by his big brother Andrew.

ALEXANDER HOFFLUND, Choice Groceries.

The above named gentleman is located at the corner of Chambers and Berrien streets in his own store, and is very fortunately situated for the south-eastern part of the city's trade and that of the country coming in on the Knoxville road. He is not only fortunately situated, but secures a vast patronage, footing, we understand some $20,000 per annum. It would hardly be supposed by less energetic persons that such an enormous business could be transacted at this location. But such is the fact, and it is transacted by a thorough devotion to his customers wants and charging moderately for goods. His store contains a very heavy stock and varied assortment of goods which consists of family supplies generally. Alex. Hofflund came to this city in 1866, and began in this business in 1872 with S. H. Olson, having been alone since July, 1876. He served one year in the army from 1864, in the 151st regiment Illinois volunteers. Taken altogether, this store, its business and proprietor are among the popular ones of the city, and stand high for facilities given, honorable conduct and liberality and enterprise. It is but just to say that his salesmen are very prompt and obliging, and are Gordon S. Dudley and J. A. Engstrum.

ALONZO WOOKEY, Galesburg's Gunsmith, &c.

The above named gentleman, although a young man, is one of the oldest settlers of Knox county, coming here in 1855 (not 1850, as printed at the end of his name) with his father, who died in 1857. He remained on the parental farm until 1867, when he went to Peoria to learn the gunsmithing business. After learning this, and in 1870, he established himself here, and we can say without fear, of successful contradiction that no other man in this line ever met with as great success in Galesburg. His fine qualifications as gunsmith, and his ingenious mechanical skill, which enable him to make and repair almost any article, has contributed largely to this success, but his unswerving business integrity and amiable disposition has added materially thereto. Besides repairing guns and innumerable other articles, he sells guns, pistols, revolvers, rifles, and is agent for that celebrated "Orange Powder," manufactured by the Laffin & Rand Powder Company, which is said to be the best in the market. His trade in this line is becoming quite large, as the public can fully rely on his judgment in the quality of these articles, and his word in regard to the same. Alonzo Wookey is president of the Philharmonic Society, and besides taking a deep interest in the affairs of the city, owns and manages the "headquarters for sporting men's goods."

GEO. D. CROCKER, Family Grocer.

This department of our work is instituted for the sole purpose of pointing out to the public the old settlers, and the facilities they offer the public as business men. Among those whose steady and unassuming perseverance have brought them large success, stands Geo. D. Crocker, the family grocer, of Seminary and South streets. He came to this city with his father, F. O. Crocker, in 1856, from Henderson county, Ill., where he was born. For years he was employed in his father's store, when in 1867 he began on his own account, and from that day to this his efforts have been crowned with success. Never headstrong or hasty, he cautiously conducts his business, and now rejoices in a trade footing the enormous total of fifty to sixty thousand dollars a year. He owns the store he occupies, which is forty-two by fifty feet, two stories high, in which is constantly carried an immense stock of everything pertaining to the table. Geo. D. Crocker has built up this trade by a faithful and conscientious devotion to his business, and is very careful to continue as customers those who have once traded with him. There is no citizen or business man who has more strictly attended to the business in which he is engaged, and but few, if any, stand higher with their fellow-citizens or with the trade.

GEO. HAST, Billiards and Liquors.

The above named gentleman came to this country from Germany in the year 1856, settling in Pittsburgh, where he followed his trade as tailor. In 1865 he moved from that city to Galesburg, and from then to 1876 was in the merchant tailoring business. In the latter year he opened his present business, and is located under Cowan's Hotel, near and opposite to the depot. Here he has one of the finest and most orderly places in the city, and dispenses beverages ranking with the best in the market. His wines, liquors, beer and cigars are of a good grade, while his billiard hall is one of the best in this locality. There are two tables, one billiard and one pool, the room being furnished with fine upholstered seats. Mr. Hast allows no gambling or betting, and therefore a person can get a good and quiet drink, smoke a good cigar, or play a game of billiards, simply for the good, pleasure or profit there may be in either.

JOHN W. ANDERSON, Practical Butcher.

In 1863, the above-named gentleman first came to Galesburg from Sweden, and since then has become very favorably known as one of the reliable citizens, and as an industrious person. During the past sixteen years he has been engaged on a farm, seven and since 1870 as butcher, five years being spent in business for himself. He is now located at 75 East Main street, where he transacts more than an average business, and where he has one of the largest, cleanest and best arranged markets in the city. Here is also one of the largest and most complete ice boxes in any similar establishment, and here may be viewed the finest kind of all kinds of meats for which he is well known for killing. He prides himself on the good quality of the stock killed, and above all, the "live and let live" prices at which he sells the same. John W. Anderson is an affable and accommodating gentleman, and ranks among the first butchers of Galesburg.

FRED. LINDQUIST & CO., Practical Painters.

The above firm, composed of Fred. and Hawken Lindquist, ranks among the leading ones of its class. It has been in existence since 1873, and during the past five or six years has secured a high standing for fine work and no less for honesty in carrying out contracts. They learned their trade in Sweden where they were apprenticed to the same, and are said to understand the painting business to a large degree in all its branches. The large amount of work they have done since beginning for themselves and the satisfaction they have hitherto given is a sure sign of their future success. General painting, sign writing, lettering, graining, paper hanging, calcimining, &c., is done either by the day or job, and judging from their work and prices, we see no reason why they should not receive large patronage.

JAMES WHITE, Sample Rooms.

There are not many persons in this locality who do not know the genial and good natured "Jim" White. He is an Englishman by birth, coming from Lancashire in 1854 to Fulton county, Ill., where he engaged in the farming business. In 1860 he moved onto a farm in the southeast part of Knox county, where he cultivated a farm of 160 acres. Here he remained principally until 1876, when he engaged in his present business and location. Since taking this place, which is opposite the depot and well known as the St. Lawrence House, he has made many improvements and may now lay claim to having one of the finest sample rooms and billiard halls in the city. James White aims at dispensing only straight goods, while his jovial and liberal actions have secured him many warm acquaintances and a good list of customers.

CHARLES HAGGENJOS. Grease. Tallow. &c.

One of the most advantageous places for the citizens and farmers of this locality is that owned and conducted by the above-named gentleman. He is located two miles east from the public square on Main street, where he has an institution for manufacturing soft soap, and rendering grease and refined tallow. For this purpose he collects offal, dead hogs and other animals, and is prepared to pay the highest prices for these animals as well as for wood ashes. Mr. Haggenjos has now been in our midst since 1863, and during this time has not only succeeded in building up a good trade, but has earned a good name and is one of the popular and responsible business men of this vicinity. He came to this country from Baden, Germany, in 1856, and after being in St. Louis, New Orleans, Peoria, Chicago, and other places, came here, as we have said, in 1863.

JULIUS KRAFT. National Steam Dye Works.

In 1873 the above named gentleman came to this city and opened dye works, which he continued till 1876, when he moved from the city to Burlington, Iowa. He returned in August, 1878, and opened the above works, which are located at 85 E. Main street. We understand that since opening he has done a very satisfactory business, persons of his own nationality extending their patronage. He came to the United States in 1870, from Germany, where he had served an apprenticeship of five years duration at the dyeing trade, and had worked at New York city principally before coming here. Mr. Kraft appears to be a young gentleman who thoroughly understands the business in which he is engaged, and also to be a very reliable and good meaning business man. He should receive a liberal share of the patronage of this vicinity.

CHRISTER L. HEDELL. Builder and Contractor.

In 1864 the above named gentleman came to Galesburg, and since then has done a good business. He is a practical carpenter and builder, having been at the trade nearly twenty years. Since coming here he has worked at the business for the past nine years on his own account. During this time he has done a good share of the building trade of the city, and secured a good name for the faithful performance of his contracts. Gradually he has supplied himself with all necessary tools and implements, and to-day his shop, which is run by steam power, corner Kellogg and North streets, is well equipped for his business. He takes contracts for all kinds of buildings from the foundation up, yet he makes a specialty of cistern building, house raising and moving. His cisterns are of excellent reputation, and are guaranteed for quality and full capacity. Among his contracts we point the public to the following buildings, which will prove his qualifications as a builder. They are the residences of F. A. Olson, Judge Kitchell, James Brown, Peter Anderson, Nels Benson, L. Ahnburg, Miss Betsy Anderson, and many others in the country. Then there are the barns of Olof Hawkinson (which is the largest in the county), of Z. Lewis, of Aaron Linnroot, Peter Nelson, and the conservatory of Dr. D. Greenleaf. These are sufficient to prove the character of his work, and the character of the men who have confidence in his ability.

HARTEL & SECKER, Butchers.

This firm is composed of Henry Hartel and Andrew Secker, and is located corner of Berrien and Seminary streets. They opened in August, 1878, and since then have done a gratifying business, while their future prospects appear most flattering. They are two well-known and popular young men, and have resided here for the past seven or eight years. Each is a practical butcher, and to this fact and the further fact that they are on light expenses and attend to the business personally, may be attributed a good measure of their success. Their aim is to kill as good meat as they can secure, while their prices are as low as the same quality can be afforded at after leaving themselves a fair and reasonable profit. Their market is in the right place for securing a large railroad trade, and we understand that so far, this class of men have extended a liberal patronage, and are glad of being able to secure all kinds of meat so near their business place and homes.

CHAS. MEISENHEIMER, Restaurant and Sample Rooms.

In 1855, the above-named gentleman came to this country from Germany, remained in New York two years, after which he moved to Illinois. After remaining in Sheffield, this state, two years, from 1857, he went to St. Louis where he was engaged in the grocery and provision trade for several years. During the rebellion he served in the army nearly three years in the First Missouri Cavalry. After being honorably discharged he came to Kewanee, Ill., and opened a sample room, and afterward a brick-yard. From the latter place he moved to Neponset, where he run a brick yard and owned a farm. At Neponset he sold out, going to Mendota, where he purchased twenty acres of land for brick-making purposes, shortly after which he sold out and went on to a farm near that city. Immediately before coming to Galesburg, he again moved into the city of Mendota, where, for a short time, he run a grocery, and in 1875 came here. Since coming here at the latter date, he has been very successful, and this may probably be accounted for in his excellent location opposite the depot, and in the further fact that he always keeps a well appointed restaurant, and the choicest wines, liquors, ales, lager beer and cigars on hand, secured from reliable houses.

JOHN P. HIPPERT, Fine Boot Maker.

Compared with the great number, there are but few boot makers who understand how to, or, to say the least, do make boots which give satisfaction to the wearer. The stock may be good and the workmanship better, but that does not constitute the value of a boot to the purchaser. It consists in its fitting in every part, and in order to secure that boon, for such it truly is, we must go to those manufacturers who have not simply been drudging at the business in the same old style they began may be a quarter of a century ago, but to those who have studied the anatomy of the human foot and experimented to such an extent that he is enabled to fit any and every foot. In view of this, we take pleasure in pointing our readers to John P. Hippert, who has been at this business nearly all his life (except the three years he served in the 124th Illinois volunteers, during the war), and who during this time has studied to give satisfaction in easy fitting boots. During his business career here he has accomplished this to such an extent that to-day he has numerous customers among our leading citizens, but especially among the fastidious railroad employes. He attends to measuring and cutting personally, and is determined to build up a still larger trade on the merits of his easy fitting and well made boots and honorable dealing.

WILLIAM BRAUGHT, Pawnbroker.

The above-named gentleman is located at 35 South Prairie street, where he does a remarkably large business in the narrow and contracted quarters he here occupies. He came to this city from his birthplace, Princeton, Bureau Co., Ill., on the 14th of November, 1877, bought out his present business and since then has succeeded abundantly. He holds a city license to carry on the pawnbroking business, and has conducted it with satisfaction to his customers and with large advantage to himself. Besides conducting the pawnbroking business, he deals in new and second hand goods of all kinds, but especially in furniture, carpets, bedding, and clothing. Here, persons in moderate circumstances can often save much money in purchasing goods they need, which are but little worse for wear and so much lower in price than new ones. He is a young gentleman who has made many friends, and now ranks among the prosperous and enterprising business men of the city.

FRANCIS M. FRITCHMAN, Family Grocer.

— Since the above named gentleman came to this city in 1865, after coming out of the army, where he served nearly four years in the 155th Pennsylvania volunteers, he has made many warm friends and has become well known and popular. Previous to this he had been railroading in the East, and naturally enough he became connected with the railroad again, and chose the C., B. & Q. He was in the employ of this company until 1871, when he left and began with the Wabash railroad, with which he remained until 1876, being considered one of the most prominent and best posted engineers on the road. Thus it will be seen that from his previous railroad experience he is well known, and this leads us to say that to this fact he may attribute much of his railroad trade and success, as well as to his good goods and full weight on which he prides himself. His grocery is located corner Second and Cedar streets, next to Whitney's meat market, where he keeps a choice selection of groceries, and where he transacts a large trade, being very conveniently located for those who reside in the southwest part of the city.

E. J. WHITNEY, Meat Market.

Next to Fritchman's grocery, corner of Second and Cedar streets, is the above named gentleman's neat little meat market, which has been established and in successful existence for the past two years. So well is it known and so liberally is it patronized that we shall but say few words in regard to it. It is but fair to state, however, that E. J. Whitney is the only man that has had the enterprise to conduct strictly a meat market and run it all the year round in this location, but we are pleased to say that for his courage in so doing he has done a first-class trade. He owns the shop he occupies and has every convenience for conducting the butchering business. For years before engaging in this line of trade he was farming and stock raising, and has proven by the fine meat that issues from his market that he understands its quality to a high degree. There is no need for those citizens living in the southwest part of the city carrying their meat from the center of the town so long as this first-class market remains open.

JOHN MOORE, Billiard Hall and Sample Rooms.

From New Brunswick, N. J., in the year 1859, came the above-named gentleman to Galesburg. He learned his trade as carpenter, joiner and builder in the former city, and when he came to this place twenty years ago, began working at the same, at which he continued until 1872. In the latter year he became engaged on the C. B. & Q. Ry., as bridge builder, and remained with this company two or three years, after which he followed the same business on other roads, including the old Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis, now the St. Louis Division of the C. B. & Q. In 1876 he embarked in his present business and has been successful therein, ever aiming at keeping a quiet and orderly house, and treating customers as he would like to be treated. His location, corner Prairie and Central streets, near the depot, is an old and well known stand which is very conveniently arranged and well fitted, making it one of the coziest billiard halls and sample rooms in the city. John Moore is an unassuming and quiet citizen, and ranks among our oldest residents, having a great number of permanent customers who pronounce his beverages and manner of conducting business of the first order.

BRIGGS HOUSE, Chicago, Capt. J. H. Cummings, Propr.

It is conceded by everybody that knows anything about Chicago that she is supplied with a greater number of first-class hotels than any similar city in the world, and while this is true their charges are much less than the prices often exacted by a second-class country hostelry. And this leads us to say that one of the class of houses in Chicago above alluded to is the Briggs House, located on its original ante-fire site, corner Randolph street and Fifth avenue, near the Board of Trade, Court House, and principal business emporiums. The house is one of the largest and most imposing structures in the city, being 90x155 feet, six stories high, and first-class in all its appointments, having elevators, bath rooms with hot and cold water, and every modern convenience. Everybody will remember that before the present proprietor took charge, the rates per day were $3 to $4, but since coming into his hands some three years ago he determined that he would try the experiment of materially reducing charges, believing it to be better to have a house full of guests at a moderate price than only a few at a high rate. We are glad to be able to say of our own knowledge that after a full trial of the low charges of $2 to $2.50 per day the house has been more successful than ever, and to-day there is not a better patronized hotel in Chicago, or one more popular. The proprietor, Capt. J. H. Cummings, was one of the first, if not the first, in the city to make sweeping reductions in his rates, his many years of hotel experience at the Gault and other houses convincing him that the time for war prices had past for the present at least, and that large patronage would accrue and more satisfaction ensue by keeping a first-class house at nominal charges. None of the old time popularity of the BRIGGS HOUSE has been allowed to wane under this arrangement, and the consequence is it stands to-day the headquarters for traveling men from all over the country. In its management the proprietor is still ably assisted in the office by his amiable, polite and attentive brother, Joe E. Cummings, who along with himself is very popular with the traveling community.

IRVING MILITARY ACADEMY, Chicago. (For Boys only.)

We desire to call special attention to the above institution, located at Lake View, near Chicago. It has been in existence for fourteen years, and has gained a high reputation as an educational institute, but especially so since it has added to its benefits the military department thereof. It was formerly known as Immanuel Hall, but some years ago was incorporated under the laws of the State, as Irving Military Academy. The Academy is pleasantly situated in Lake View, a healthy suburb of the city, and is a large and elegant building containing ample accommodations for the forty pupils to which it limits itself. This feature is of great advantage, as here there is no crowding, while cadets have the personal care of the principals who reside on the premises. It has four resident professors and is for boys only, whose educational and moral training receive the most thorough care and attention. Thoroughness is a marked characteristic of this institution in every department, and no better eulogy can be given than that of the graduates of the academy and their parents, and while this is true and must be appreciated by every person desiring the best interests of his son or sons, yet the charges are much less than at other similar institutions whose practical benefits are scarcely equal to those secured here. The president of the Academy is one of the most thorough and experienced teachers in the country, having had nearly thirty years' experience as an educator, while Capt. J. Claude Hill, the Commandant, is one of the original Ellsworth Zouaves, having been connected with military in active and civil service for the past seventeen years, and is well fitted for his position. Many parents, whose sons have acquired their education here, will testify to its merits. The advertisement of this institution will be found on page 283 in this Directory, and we advise parents seeking the best school for their boys, at a nominal cost, to communicate with the Commandant and investigate its benefits.

SHNIEDEWEND & LEE, Electrotypers, &c.

We desire to call special attention to the advertisement of the above named gentlemen, to be found in this work. They are located at 200 and 202 South Clark street, Chicago, where they have one of the most extensive and complete electrotype foundries in the West, and where all kinds of labor-saving furniture, nonpareil and pica slugs, shaved leads, newspaper headings, &c., may be obtained at very reasonable prices. They are Western agents for the Campbell printing presses, whose price and superior qualifications recommend them to every printing office in the country. See them before buying and they will convince you on the merits of this printing press and its lowness of price, that it is to your interest to purchase a Campbell.

ANCHOR LINE OF OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

As there are many persons in this vicinity who may contemplate a trip to Europe, we take pleasure in recommending them to a leading steamship line, whose accommodations are equal to any, and prices lower than the majority of all other first-class lines. We refer to the "Anchor Line," carrying the U. S. mail, and sailing from New York to Glasgow and London direct, passengers being booked to any sea-port or railway station in the world. This is one of the oldest and most extensive lines in existence, whose vessels are unsurpassed in strength and sea-going qualities, while it has always been the aim of its officers to secure to passengers speed, safety and comfort at the lowest rates of fare. J. E. Earle, the manager of the company's office at 96 Washington street, Chicago, is one of the most experienced steamship and railroad men in the country, and has devoted many years towards securing to passengers all the comforts attainable in making a sea voyage. He is probably one of the best known gentlemen holding a similar position, and especially since so narrowly escaping with his life in the recent Ashtabula disaster. Read the advertisement of the "Anchor Line" in this Directory, and before making arrangements call on Mr. Earle at the company's office, who will be pleased to give every necessary information for the trip, and book you through to any railway station or sea port in the world.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.

We advise those who desire the best hotel accommodations to stop at the favorite BRIGGS HOUSE, Chicago; BURTIS HOUSE, Davenport, Iowa; BIDDLE HOUSE, Detroit, Mich.; BARRET HOUSE, Burlington, Iowa; BREWSTER HOUSE, Freeport, Ill.; CLIFTON HOUSE, Ottawa, Ill.; DEPOT HOTEL, Galesburg, Ill.; FIRST NATIONAL HOTEL, Green Bay, Wis.; FITCH HOUSE, Aurora, Ill.; FRENCH'S HOTEL, New York City; GALT HOUSE, Sterling, Ill.; GRAND HOTEL, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; HARPER HOUSE, Rock Island, Ill.; HIBBARD HOUSE, Jackson, Mich.; HOLLAND HOUSE, Rockford, Ill.; HUGGINS HOUSE, Racine, Wis.; KALAMAZOO HOUSE, Kalamazoo, Mich.; LOGAN HOUSE, Cedar Falls, Iowa; MANSION HOUSE, Buffalo, N. Y.; MERCHANTS' HOTEL, Philadelphia; MYERS HOUSE, Janesville, Wis.; NICOLLET HOUSE, Minneapolis, Minn.; PARK HOTEL, Madison, Wis.; PATTERSON HOUSE, Keokuk, Iowa; PATTY HOUSE, Fond du Lac, Wis.; PEORIA HOUSE, Peoria, Ill.; RALYEA HOUSE, Waterloo, Iowa; ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL, Springfield, Ill.; ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL, St. Louis, Mo.; TEE-GARDEN HOUSE, La Porte, Ind.; TREMONT HOUSE, Dubuque, Iowa; UNION HOTEL, Galesburg, Ill.; WEDDELL HOUSE, Cleveland, Ohio; also the NORTHWESTERN HOTEL, at the Lime street depot, Liverpool, England, of which Ed. Bisserot is manager, and the QUEEN'S HOTEL, Leeds, Yorkshire, England, of which James Allen is manager, each being first-class in every respect, and offers superior inducements to American tourists and merchants.

OF AURORA, ILL.,

Where I have been established since 1857, would respectfully say to my friends who have, and those who have not, smoked my Cigars during the past TWENTY-THREE YEARS, that they can secure my brands:

"Aurora Punch," "Light Guards," and "Golden Crowns,"

At Chas. Brechwald & Son's, the Union Hotel, Jonas F. Anderson's, Sam. Martin's, Bollenbach & Dyke's, and Gust. Henderson's.

Your Friend,

JACOB MILLER.

Holland Publishing Company,

PUBLISHERS OF

Holland's Standard City Directories,

The most Comprehensive, Reliable and Valuable Works of the kind published.

JOHN HOLLAND, Manager and Editor,
D. L. THORP, Secretary and Treasurer.

135 & 137 Monroe St., Chicago.

Read what the Press says of Holland's Directories.

The Rock Islander, of August 10, 1878, says:—"HOLLAND'S ROCK ISLAND AND MOLINE DIRECTORY for the years 1878-81, containing a historical sketch of each city, and a list of residents, also a classified business directory, with the name and address of merchants, manufacturers and professional men and editorial notices of some of the oldest and most prominent business houses, manufactories, organizations, churches, schools, county and city officers, etc., is the title of the best directory ever published for this locality. Mr. Thorp, of the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY, has been engaged for two weeks delivering the books to subscribers and all are pleased with the work. In three years from this time the company will issue a new one. Our people are so well pleased with Holland & Thorp and their works, that we doubt if they would encourage any other persons to get up a directory.

The Daily Union says:—The third directory of Rock Island and Moline, published by John Holland and D. L. Thorp, manager and secretary of the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY, of Chicago, respectively, is a marked improvement over its predecessors. The Directory is a work of 467 pages, and is particularly full and complete of information about our cities, their citizens, and everything pertaining to their progress and present standing and condition. We are confident our people will like the new Directory, and that they are pleased so reliable a firm as the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY, are its publishers.

The Daily Argus says:—Holland's third Directory now being delivered by Mr. D. L. Thorp, secretary of the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY, its publishers, is one of the most complete and best arranged directories ever furnished this community and reflects credit on the publisher's long experience, and shows great care in its compilation. John Holland and D. L. Thorp, of the above COMPANY, have won a most enviable reputation in this special branch of publications and deserve the substantial encouragement they receive from our citizens and in so many cities in which they operate in the West.

The Gazette says: D. L. Thorp, of HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY fame, has made his appearance with the third Directory of HOLLAND'S, for Rock Island and Moline. Good as the first were, this last, if possible, is an improvement, and shows what may be accomplished by a steady perseverance in any one business by the right kind of reputable gentlemen, and a strict attention to the business followed. The book has been looked for with interest, and now it has arrived, has far exceeded our citizen's most sanguine expectations.

The Moline Review says:—From the high reputation of the old-established HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY and our acquaintance with its manager and editor, Mr. John Holland, and secretary, Mr. D. L. Thorp, we looked for a comprehensive work, but were hardly prepared to find one so full of valuable information, and arranged in the same, simple and accurate manner as is this, their third Directory of Rock Island and Moline. Our citizens will congratulate themselves on extending a liberal patronage to the HOLLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY, and will be pleased to recognize them on the publication of their fourth edition.

Western Health Institution

AND GALESBURG

HYGIENIC INFIRMARY,

In Successful Operation nearly Twenty Years.

At this Institution invalids in any form of disease, able to be moved, will be received, and have the comforts of home, medical attendance, nursing, and board, for about the same expense as would secure medical advice once a day at their homes.

With the facilities offered, few need be sick. Chronic diseases receive special attention. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Incipient Consumption, Diseases of Females, &c., are always relieved, and nearly always permanently cured by a few weeks or months of treatment.

The glory of the Hygienic system is most readily seen in the management of acute disease. All forms of Fever and all kinds of Inflammation, Diphtheria, Erysipelas, Scarlatina, Pneumonia, &c., under our treatment, nearly always result in entire and perfect recovery.

PRICES.

Bath at the Institution, $1. Day Treatment from $2 to $3 Per Day. Per Week, $7 to $9.

All invalids who come to the Institution for treatment shall have, as far as possible, the comforts and conveniences of home, and every effort will be made to promote their speedy recovery to sound health.
